

REDS HOTLY DENOUNCE UN REPORT ON HUNGARY

LONDON (AP)—Radio Moscow angrily called today's United Nations report on Russian intervention in Hungary a "propaganda bomb" supported by false evidence.

"The so-called special committee for the investigation of the situation in Hungary has circulated its report, fabricated by false testimonies," it said.

U.S. Urges Equal Forces With Russ in Arms Cut

2,500,000 Men And Nuclear Ban

LONDON (AP) — Harold Stassen said today the United States is ready to cut back its armed forces to 2,500,000 men as part of a limited East-West disarmament treaty—if Russia does the same.

This would mean a cut of about 300,000 under the estimated 2,000,000 now in the U.S. armed services.

Moscow announced January 7 that the Soviet armed forces had been cut by 1,840,000 men. The announcement did not say what the size of the force was before the cut. A 1955 British estimate put it at 4,750,000 men. The American delegate's statement at a session of the United Nations disarmament group here made it clear the U.S. is attaching no political preconditions to the proposal.

He said, however, it must be related to an agreement providing for a suspension of nuclear weapons tests.

The Stassen proposal was the first of a series of statements on the U.S. proposal to the conference.

TO DEFINE POSITION
Stassen said the series of proposals he intends to make will define the U.S. position. He suggested the proposed cut-back of American and Soviet forces should be carried out within 12 months of the signing of any treaty.

Stassen said further cuts by the two countries would be considered in succeeding years.

He gave no indication of what the lowest ceilings might eventually be but said that they could be carried out in two further stages—depending on the solution of various political problems. This appeared to be a reference to East-West differences on the future of Germany.

The Russian delegate in the five-power UN group, Valerian Zorin, did not immediately accept or reject Stassen's proposal. The group consists of the U.S., Britain, France, Canada and Russia.

A NECESSARY PART
British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said agreement on force levels is a necessary part of any first-stage disarmament agreement. Stassen did not mention any force ceilings for other big powers such as Britain or France or Communist China.

In previous exchanges, the British and French forces were given a suggested limitation of 750,000 men each.

The disarmament group, which has until Aug. 1 to report to the UN disarmament commission in New York, adjourned until Tuesday.

Delegates at the talks said privately that prospects for some arms limitation agreement seem more favorable now than at any time since the Second World War.

Britain enters this critical phase of the negotiations with her bargaining power increased by the successful completion of a series of three hydrogen bomb tests in the Pacific.

She is reported in a position to begin full-scale production of nuclear weapons like the U.S. and Russia.

HAROLD E. STASSEN
... puts U.S. proposal

ONE MAJOR ISSUE
For several weeks the Western powers and Russia have appeared to be approaching an agreement to end nuclear tests. One major issue still divides them. In the Western view ending such tests should be linked with an agreement to stop the production of nuclear weapons.

Thus far Russia has resisted such a proposal. Moscow has proposed a two to three-year end to the tests, and for the first time has agreed to allow international observers to be stationed on Soviet soil to see that there is no cheating on such a test ban.

Western delegations regarded that as a major concession. But they feel any ending of the tests which still allowed continued mass production of nuclear weapons would not bring any lasting improvement.

Red Warships
On Exercise
In Bosphorus

ISTANBUL (Reuters) — A Russian cruiser and two escort ships passed through the Bosphorus bound for the Mediterranean early today.

The Russians had informed Turkey about the ships, saying they were on a naval exercise.

Diplomatic sources describe the move as a show of power in return for a British fleet's visit to Turkish Black Sea ports recently.

According to the 1936 Montreux Treaty, Black Sea countries have the right to pass through the straits on informing Turkey.

Refugees Causing Trouble

VANCOUVER (CP)—An immigration department official says there is a group of trouble-makers among the Hungarian refugees in British Columbia.

Some are suspected Communists and some will eventually be deported, he said.

Alex Lockwood, director of settlement of the immigration department here, told the Hungarian Emergency Council at a meeting here that "it's time for some frank talking."

He told of refugees who have refused to leave the camp at Abbotsford, 40 miles east of here; refugees who have been "thrown out" of private homes, and a refugee who began agitating for higher wages two weeks after he was established in a printing plant.

"People have had to be ordered to leave the Abbotsford camp," Mr. Lockwood said. "Buses have arrived to take them to Victoria and other centres."

"They vanished, and buses had to go away empty."

TWO IN PRISON
At least two refugees have wound up in Oakalla Prison, he said. Some had been thrown out of four private homes they were placed in.

Mr. Lockwood said another refugee was thrown out of the immigration building bodily after beating his wife.

Some agitators, suspected of being Communists, were telling refugees they don't have to work for a year after coming here.

Mr. Lockwood said of the trouble makers that "we would have got them if we gobbled up a large number of people from London, or from any other big city."

The problem, he said, is what to do with them.

"Can you take them by the scruff of the neck and throw them back into the hell they came from? I don't think so."

J. R. McKinnis, inspector in charge of immigration here, said the department has had no trouble with Hungarians sent to Victoria.

"Out of 500 immigrants sent to Victoria, only a few Hungarians have had difficulty in adjusting themselves to certain types of employment," he said. "But they did not give us any trouble."

He said the Hungarians in Victoria have as a whole cooperated with immigration officials.

Our only problem at the present time," he added, "is to find homes for married couples with children."

Manitoba Tories
Called to Ottawa
By Diefenbaker

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES
OTTAWA — A VIP department of transport Viscount was ordered to Winnipeg Thursday to pick up two Progressive Conservative members of parliament and fly them back to Ottawa so that they could be interviewed by Prime Minister John Diefenbaker.

The two Manitoba members are W. H. Jorgensen, elected in Provencher and George R. Muir, elected in Lisgar.

CLOUDS, SUN
PLAY TAG OVER CITY

Victoria's weather this evening and Friday will be the usual mixture of clouds and sunshine that has prevailed all week, weatherman William Mackie said today.

"But we have nothing to complain about," he said. "Most of the B.C. mainland is covered with clouds, and a good many places reported rain."

Only chance of rain here is the odd isolated shower along the hills west of here, he said.

Temperatures will range between 50 degrees tonight and 68 degrees Friday. Winds will be southwesterly at 15 miles this evening, and will pick up to southwesterly at 25 miles Friday.

Rain Quells Fires

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Rain has quenched most of the forest fires which burned on an estimated 150,000 acres of interior Alaska in the last 10 days.

AUSSIES HOLD CANADIAN IN GOLD BRICK THEFT

OTTAWA (CP)—The RCMP said today a 30-year-old miner-pro prospector accused of stealing two gold bricks worth $50,000 by substituting lead for them aboard a plane in Canada has been arrested in Australia.

Anthony Hart (Tony) Gregson, placed on the RCMP's list of most-wanted men more than a year ago, has been located in prison at Sydney, Australia. He is serving a 14-day sentence for stowing away aboard the Ss Cornwall.

The RCMP said Gregson was arrested June 14 and gave his name as Colin Dempsey. He will be deported to Canada.

When Gregson's name was added to their list of most-wanted men, the RCMP said the two gold bricks stolen from a plane bound for Yellowknife, N.W.T., in July, 1954, probably were disposed of in the United States.

Diefenbaker
Holds Parley
With Pearson

OTTAWA (CP)—John Diefenbaker took time out today from cabinet building for a morning conference with resigning External Affairs Minister Pearson.

Mr. Pearson, emerging after one hour, said he talked with Mr. Diefenbaker about the agenda of the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference, which starts next Wednesday.

Mr. Diefenbaker leaves by air for London Sunday.

Mr. Pearson said a number of government briefs prepared for the conference will be turned over to the new government.

The visit added strength to speculation that the new prime minister probably will hold the external affairs portfolio himself on a temporary basis.

Mr. Diefenbaker was his party's foreign affairs spokesman for a number of years before gaining the Conservative leadership last December.

PROCESSION CONTINUES
Meanwhile, the procession of cabinet candidates who visited his office Wednesday continued today.

Mr. Diefenbaker, 61-year-old Saskatchewan lawyer, met a succession of top-ranking Conservatives Wednesday in an effort to prepare his cabinet which is due to take office Friday thus ending 22 years of Liberal rule.

Mr. Diefenbaker is due to be sworn in at about 11:30 a.m. EDT, 8:30 PDT, Friday, at Government House in the presence of Governor-General Massey.

Then his cabinet will be summoned and sworn in.

INCOMPLETE SLATE
He has indicated the cabinet slate may not be a complete one; some posts may not be finally filled until his return from the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference. The new prime minister is scheduled to leave by air for London Sunday afternoon, to be away for two weeks.

Shortly before the new government takes office, resigning Prime Minister St. Laurent and the members of the Liberal cabinet will visit the governor-general to take their leave. Later in the day the elected Liberal members, 105 strong, will meet in caucus to discuss the party's platform and its future.

DELEGING FOR FINANCE
At the party leader's office, the procession of visitors gave some clue to the makeup of the cabinet.

Mr. Diefenbaker kept his own counsel, but a high party informant said the key post of finance minister had been practically settled for Donald Fleming, 52, MP for Toronto-Eglinton since 1945 and runner-up for the Conservative leadership at the party convention last December.

Earlier speculation was that J. M. Macdonnell, party financial critic in the Commons since 1945, might get the finance portfolio.

A few minutes later a neighbor saw him walk through a service station lot at Quadra and Kings, about 100 yards from the apartment.

There is no trace of him from this point.

Mrs. Yurkowski said her husband complained earlier of dizziness and had not eaten any lunch.

Police gave his description as: Dark hair, blue-grey eyes, six feet one inch, 145 pounds, wearing a light blue shirt, grey slacks and tweed sports coat.

Monday evening after 7, Mrs. Yurkowski found her husband's car, containing sales records and samples, parked on Kings Road between Rose and Douglas.

Detectives are baffled by the disappearance.

The man carried with him about $200 which he intended to remit to his Vancouver office Monday. The money was not sent.

Mr. Yurkowski had an appointment to see a doctor at 4 p.m. Monday, but did not show up. While in the army, from which he was discharged here soon after New Year's, he had been treated for ulcers.

"I keep thinking he might be discouraged about having to go back in the hospital for his ulcers," Mrs. Yurkowski said.

Fer "tired old men" as th' Conservatives called 'em, th' Liberal cabinet members seem 't be in big demand—Mr. Pearson bein' missed by th' world diplomats, Mister Winters bein' grabbed for a $60,000-a-year job, an' so on.

Three Killed In Air Crash

KETCHIKAN, Alaska (AP)—Three persons were killed Wednesday in the crash of a Canadian airplane near Telegraph Creek, B.C., the Ellis Air Lines office here reported today.

Four persons aboard an Ellis plane escaped with only minor injuries when their plane crashed while circling the wrecked Canadian craft. They possibly were caught in the same down-draft condition.

The Ellis office said the Canadian plane was believed to have been operated by Peterson Airways of Atlin, B.C. It burned after crashing about eight miles from Telegraph Creek just a few minutes before the Ellis plane arrived overhead.

Pilot Ken Berry and his three passengers on the Ellis plane suffered cuts and bruises but were able to walk to Telegraph Creek. The passengers were flown to Wrangell from there. Their names were not available here.

Telegraph Creek is 800 miles north of Vancouver.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Our Father in heaven, as we look at the fields growing under the warmth of thy sunshine and rain, may we not forget our own spiritual growth. Let the Holy Spirit permeate our souls so that our lives may be fruitful in building the kingdom of heaven in Christ's name. Amen.

Little Change Seen In Hydro Policies

APPOINTMENT of Carl E. Brannen, 45, of Victoria as executive assistant to a committee on civic efficiency has been announced by the Toronto Board of Control. The committee was recently set up to implement efficiency recommendations made by management consultants J. D. Woods and Gordon. Salary range of the new post is $8,000 to $11,000 annually. Mr. Brannen was assistant city controller for Victoria until October, 1955, when he entered the insurance business. During the Second World War he was an RCAF wing commander in pay section.

Up-Island Points Lose Air Service As Traffic Poor

VANCOUVER (CP)—Pacific Western Airlines officials said today they have suspended passenger flights to several up-coast and Vancouver Island centres indefinitely because of lack of traffic.

Cancelled are Wednesday flights between Prince Rupert and Ketchikan, Alaska, daily flights between Vancouver, Gun Lake, Ganges and Port Alberni, and tri-weekly service between Vancouver and Shalalth.

Rain Helps Fight Against N.S. Fire

WINDSOR, N.S. (CP)—Firemen and volunteers held Nova Scotia's biggest forest fire under control today. They were helped by the moisture from Wednesday's half-inch rainfall, the first this month that was more than a shower.

About 10,000 acres of spruce and fir forest have been burned over since the fire started 11 days ago. Six camps and a saw-mill have been destroyed.

52,000 FLEE FLOOD WATERS IN ITALY

ROVIGO, Italy (Reuters)—The rain-swollen River Po burst its dikes today and forced 52,000 inhabitants of two delta islands to flee for their lives.

First it swirled over Ariano Island south of Venice, driving out the island's 32,000 people. Almost the entire island was reported flooded.

As rescue workers struggled to erect a wall to save part of the island from being submerged, the waters turned on Porto Tolle Island and its 20,000 population.

Rescue workers switched to the second island to buttress its river walls with sandbags. As pressure increased on the walls, an emergency order for immediate evacuation of Porto Tolle was issued.

Tories May Speed International Dicker on River Rights; Be Firmer

By JOHN E. BIRD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The Progressive Conservatives are not expected to take any different basic position than the Liberals in Canada-United States negotiations on development of water power resources of rivers crossing the international boundary.

However, the government of Prime Minister-Designate John Diefenbaker may attempt to speed negotiations on the thorny problem and may be more outspoken about Canadian rights.

During the last session of Parliament, Howard Green, Conservative power spokesman and a potential cabinet minister in the Diefenbaker government, complained about the length of preliminary negotiations.

Canada and the U.S. announced May 23, 1956, that the two countries planned to discuss the international river problem. However, it was not until March 17, 1957, that the first agenda-setting meeting was held in Ottawa. This was followed by a Washington conference May 20-21.

Mr. Green said that if negotiations proceeded over an unusually long period a Canada-U.S. decision on international rivers might be delayed for months or even years.

Latest reports indicate the complex negotiations could extend over another year. If the reports are correct, the Conservatives may attempt to bring them to an earlier conclusion.

The negotiations aim at agreement between the two countries on the best way to develop the hydro-electric resources of international rivers.

The main problem revolves around what are known as down-stream benefits, gains to a down-stream state from the power potential it derives by water regulation or storage in an upstream state. Flood control on both sides of the border also enters into the complex picture.

Prime Minister St. Laurent's Liberal government took the position that Canada should receive compensation in the form of electric power if Canadian water resources are used for hydro production in the U.S.

This applies particularly to the Columbia, which rises in B.C., crosses the boundary near Trail, B.C., and flows through

SWITCH GOOD FOR CANADA—N.Y. TIMES

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times says the change of government in Canada "is a major event in the current history of the Western Hemisphere."

In an editorial, the paper says the difference between the old and the new regime likely will be the same order of difference as occurred in Britain when she switched from a Socialist to a Tory government in 1951.

"It is doubtless good for Canada, and therefore for all of us," the paper adds, "to have a change of government after 22 years. Meanwhile, we can take comfort in the fact that Canadians have not changed and that the Liberals in opposition can be expected to show as much statesmanship as they did in office."

Allies Move to Meet Threat From Red Build-Up in Korea

WASHINGTON (AP)—South Korean Ambassador, You Chan Yang said today he understands the 16 allied powers have agreed on a program for modernizing weapons in South Korea.

Yang said in an interview that the United Nations command is expected to notify the Communists of the Western alliance's intentions at a meeting called in Panmunjom Friday.

"I believe the reason for the meeting is to change the armistice agreement in order to let the United Nations command build up to the strength of Communist forces in North Korea," the ambassador said.

"Certainly that should be done," he added. "We should not repeat the 1950 tragedy which allowed the Communists to build up the nth degree while we were sitting there like clay pigeons."

He said the Communist build-up in North Korea is "not a fantastic dream."

Under these circumstances I am sure the right decision has been made by the allied powers," Yang added. "I congratulate those people who see danger ahead. If we weaken ourselves we are inviting trouble."

SEUL (AP)—Officials of the UN command here declined to say what they would discuss at Friday's meeting with the Communists, but said their statements would be made public after the meeting.

The Korean armistice provided that the armies in North and South Korea could only replace existing equipment and could not bring in new types of equipment or additional arms.

American and South Korean military officials have long accused the Reds of beginning an illegal military buildup in North Korea before the ink was dry on the armistice agreement.

Even as the armistice went into force, barring Allied fighters from the skies north of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea, Allied radar screens picked up scores of Red fighters from Manchuria dropping onto make-shift strips in North Korea.

Korean military leaders argued for months that the Communists were building up for an attack and would strike southward whenever they felt confident of success.

OBSELETE UN WEAPONS Allied leaders say the UN command has observed the ban on new weapons to the letter. As a result, they say, Allied weapons have become obsolete, making it impossible for out-gunned UN and South Korean troops to defend themselves adequately in the event of renewed Communist aggression.

U.S. defence secretary Charles Wilson told reporters in May that the U.S. was considering equipping its divisions in South Korea with weapons that could be equipped with atomic war-heads in the event of a new Communist attack. Wilson said he hoped for a "prompt decision."

Reds Scored In UN Report On Hungary

Scathing Denunciation for Imposing Kadar Regime, Suppressing Uprising

By MICHAEL LITTLEJOHNS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (Reuters)—A United Nations investigating committee today issued a scathing indictment of Soviet actions in Hungary last autumn and of continuing "repressions" to this day by the Russian-imposed Janos Kadar government.

In a 150,000-word report to the General Assembly, the five-member committee referred to "massive armed intervention" by the Soviet Union to crush "a spontaneous national uprising."

It rejected Soviet and Hungarian denials that "freedom fighters" had been deported to Russia and established that "thousands" had been sent there, though, it said, they were not tortured or ordered to forced labor.

END OF HOPE

"There is no doubt," said the report, "as to the aspirations of the immense majority of the Hungarian people... for the withdrawal of the Soviet armed forces."

"Their will for regaining full international independence is powerful and has only been strengthened by the role played by the Soviet military command in the post-war years by the establishment of a political regime patterned after that of the Soviet Union and more recently by the Soviet military intervention to guarantee that regime's continuance."

"The success of the popular revolution could have restored to the Hungarians the enjoyment of the political rights and fundamental freedoms which the 1947 Hungarian peace treaty had been intended to guarantee. The Soviet Army's suppression of the revolution... put an end to these hopes."

NO CASUALTY FIGURES

The report did not establish reliable casualty figures in the ill-fated revolt. But it said that an estimate made in the Indian Parliament by Prime Minister Nehru that about 25,000 Hungarians and 7,000 Russians died might "well be too high."

The document, drafted by Keith Shann, youngest ambassador in the Australian diplomatic service — he is envoy to the Philippines — quoted evidence that Soviet soldiers fired on women and children in breadlines, shot up ambulances, and dragged wounded Hungarian patriots from hospital wards. It also recorded that the committee was "deeply shocked" by "inhuman treatment and tortures of the Hungarian people by their own state security police, the AVH."

The patriots' efforts "collapsed because of the Soviet armed intervention and because no support was forthcoming from them from abroad," the report said.

But at a press conference after the document was circulated, Shann in effect rejected a statement by Henry Cabot Lodge, United States ambassador to the United Nations, that the Soviet crisis prevented the world organization taking effective action in Hungary.

The report did not account for the whereabouts of Imre Nagy, former Hungarian premier who sought asylum in the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest, and then was kidnapped by the Russians.

But Shann said the committee had "quite good reason to believe that he is still in Romania and is held in some form of captivity."

It was untrue, the report said, that the uprising was "fomented by reactionary circles in Hungary, or that it drew its strength from 'imperialist' circles in the West."

The assembly must decide whether to meet and discuss the report now or wait until its 12th regular session, starting Sept. 17.

The United States is understood to feel that the document is so important it should be taken up early in that session, when many foreign ministers will be on hand.

Hungarians Not Promised Aid, Says UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—United Nations investigators conclude that the general tone of Radio Free Europe's broadcasts to Hungary during last fall's uprising "aroused an expectation of support" and hope that a UN force would be sent.

However, the General Assembly's five-member committee on Hungary found no evidence that the anti-Communist radio actually promised the Hungarian rebels military help.

The committee was named to investigate Soviet suppression of the revolt. Its report was made public today.

Some French newspapers, Hungarians and Germans had charged that the station's broadcasts built up a false impression that the anti-Russian freedom fighters could expect help from the West.

DENIED MAKING PROMISE

RFE, a privately financed American-sponsored agency which broadcasts to the Soviet satellites made any "direct promises of help, from West Germany, had denied it made any "direct promises of help."

Former Indian Agent Dies Here at 91

William Halliday, 91, resident of Victoria and Vancouver Island since 1880 and senior commissioned magistrate in B.C., died Wednesday after a short illness.

Born in Drayton, Ont., he moved to New Westminster in 1873 where he won the Governor-General's Medal for entrance into high school. In Victoria he topped his matriculation class.

His next 53 years were crowded.

He became a notary in Comox in 1887, and a magistrate seven years later. He taught at Comox, Yakima, Wash., and Alert Bay, and eventually became Indian agent at Alert Bay with 21 tribes in his area. It was at this time that he also became a coroner.

In 1933 he retired to Victoria, and three years later produced a book, "Potlatch and Totem," which discusses Indian life and problems learned during more than 28 years as an Indian agent.

He was keenly interested in Indians, and was anxious to see them become "full Canadians with all the rights and privileges of the white people."

SPORTS LOVER

He was a member of Hiram L. Jr., A.F. & A.M., Courtenay, and of First United Church in Victoria. He was an active lawn bowler until four years ago, and was an avid follower of sports and athletics of all kinds to the end of his life.

Surviving are his wife, Alma, at home, 2768 Satellite; a daughter, Mrs. Neil Robertson, Vancouver; one son, R. F. Halliday, San Francisco; two sisters, Mrs. Lucille Prendergast and Mrs. Ida Moss, Victoria.

Also surviving are two brothers, Ernest in Victoria and Victor in Courtenay and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at McCall's, and will be followed by cremation. The family has asked that no flowers be sent.

Ease Money Market Soon, Says Realtor

VANCOUVER (CP) — J. S. Stevenson of Winnipeg says the tight-money situation has saved Canada from "serious overbuilding" but the money market ought to be eased "in the immediate future."

Mr. Stevenson, president of the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards, addressed a luncheon of the Vancouver Real Estate Board Wednesday.

"Before money was scarce, building had been too rapid in some cases. Vacancies had been building up, especially in apartments."

Mr. Stevenson said tight money eliminated the small builder without resources or financial backing.

"Some builders geared to construct one house were putting up 50. The tightening of the money market saved us from a lot of poor speculative building."

The building economy is in a sounder position now, he added, and money is needed to meet the accumulated demand for housing.

While the government could not create money, it could bid the bond market up until returns are minimized, he said. Then insurance companies might make more money available for mortgages.

AUSSIES SUFFER DANCEATHON CRAZE; NOW IN THIRD DAY

MELBOURNE (Reuters)—Ambulance men stood by today as Melbourne dancers trying for endurance records shuffled like zombies through their third day.

Tonight they will have broken the Australian record of 75 hours—and by midnight Friday the world record of 108 hours.

Minister Asks Check of Tariffs

OTTAWA (CP)—Outgoing Finance Minister Harris has asked the tariff board to investigate seasonal tariffs on fruits and vegetables coming into Canada with a view to revising them if necessary.

The board disclosed this today with announcement that it will begin public hearings on the matter July 29.

It said the request was made in a letter from the finance minister dated June 14—four days after the general election in which the Liberals were beaten. Mr. Harris was defeated in Grey-Bruce, Ont.

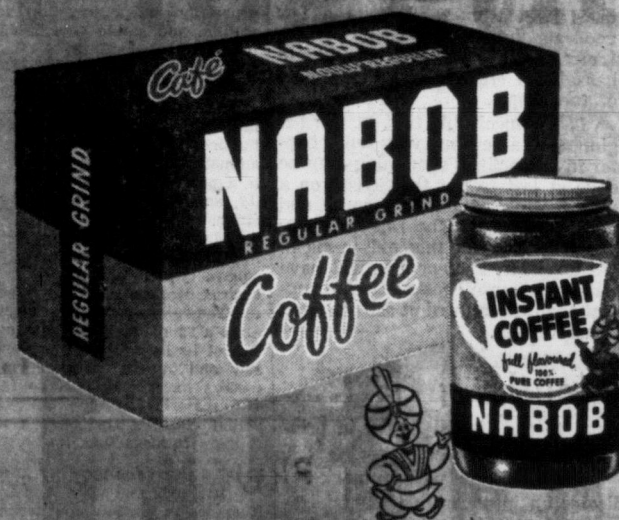

The board announcement included a copy of Mr. Harris' letter. In it, he said that if the board's study of fruit and vegetable tariffs indicate changes are necessary "I would request the board to prepare a revised schedule of tariff items, with recommendations as to the rates of duty."

Relation of Doctor To State Held Vital

EDMONTON (CP)—Rr. Renaud Lemieux of Quebec City said today the most important single issue before Canada's medical profession "concerns the future relation of the physician to the state."

As retiring president of the Canadian Medical Association, he told the annual meeting that "all the signs suggest that the practice of medicine is going to have a closer relation than previously to government, both at the national and the provincial levels."

This new relationship "has hardened in some countries into an open conflict between the two," Dr. Lemieux said.

Wednesday a major Canadian medical research development was revealed in the announcement of a quadruple vaccine for polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

The vaccine, a combination of the Salk polio vaccine and the triple antigens now being injected together for the other three diseases, was developed at the Connaught Medical Research Laboratories in Toronto, and is undergoing extensive tests.

No production or distribution date was included in the announcement by laboratory consultant Dr. R. D. Defries. His reference to the new vaccine was brief.

SAVES MANY BABIES

Dr. Bruce Chown of Winnipeg said in a discussion of the RH factor that about half the babies who normally would be born dead from this blood disorder could be spared if they were delivered four to six weeks before the normal termination of pregnancy.

Dr. A. A. Bailey of Saskatoon said perfectionists who can't accept criticism without undue stress are prime subjects for headache and should practice moderation — smaller parties, fewer clubs, less responsibility.

Dr. Charles E. Snelling of Toronto ranged over the various causes of "colic" in infants, blaming environmental factors, including fussing parents, for most of its incidence.

The scientific sessions continue today and Friday when the week-long convention ends.

INCOMPATIBLE BLOOD

Dr. Chown, director of research in Winnipeg's Children's Hospital, said that if there has been one death before birth from the blood disorder resulting from the RH factor, chances are that nine of 10 subsequent babies the mother has, will be stillborn.

The RH factor is a term for the incompatibility of a mother's blood with that of her baby. If the mother has RH negative blood and the father RH positive, the baby may have RH positive. Then antibodies may develop in the mother's blood and damage the child's red blood cells.

Dr. Chown said children born alive with the disease may be saved by blood replacement. By careful study, the doctor may determine the chances of later children being saved by earlier delivery. Termination of pregnancy at 34 to 36 weeks would save more than half the babies who otherwise would die, he said.

The Senate, Unreformed

WHEN THE ST. LAURENT Government went to the country it left sixteen seats vacant in the Senate. Nothing could demonstrate so clearly the Government's confidence in its own re-election. For if it had felt any doubt on that score it would have appointed sixteen of its friends to the haven of tired politicians.

Now the rewards that could have gone to Liberals presumably will go without much delay to Conservatives. This will be a good thing for the Senate and the nation.

At present the Senate includes 78 Liberals and only five Conservatives. Twenty-two years of Liberal rule have packed the Senate until it entirely misrepresents the political sentiments of the nation. A Liberal Party defeated at the polls will retain for some time to come its undisputed control of the upper house; just as the Conservative Party controlled it in Mr. Mackenzie King's first Liberal administration.

After sixteen of its supporters have been appointed to the vacant seats the Conservative Party will have at least the chance to argue its position adequately in the Senate, though it can always be outvoted. Since they will form a minority, the quality of the new Conservative senators will be especially important. The nation must hope that quality will count more than party service in these appointments even if such a proper standard has seldom applied in the past. For example, it would be excellent for Senate and nation if Mr. George Drew entered the upper house, as Mr. Meighen did after retiring from party leadership.

The Conservative Party proposed at its last convention to reform the Senate but this is the customary gesture of opposition parties, repeated at appropriate intervals since 1921. Nothing has been done about Senate reform and nothing is likely to be done by constitutional amendment.

Mr. King's long-promised "reform" consisted of appointing his friends as vacancies occurred. That, perhaps, is the most we can expect immediately from the Conservative Party, which certainly deserves adequate representation in the Senate. But this whole situation serves mainly to show that the Senate requires fundamental reform when it so obviously fails to represent the will of the nation.

An elected Senate is not desirable, even if it were possible, for it would soon become the senior and dominant house of legislation. We would then face a struggle between two houses like that constantly prevailing in the United States under its system of divided powers. Most Canadians do not want that system here.

It would be possible, however, to arrange for the appointment of senators on some basis other than that of political reward. It is indeed preposterous that one man, the prime minister of the moment (often without consulting his colleagues) should have the exclusive right to choose the members of a body which can veto all the decisions of the elected House of Commons.

A Senate so appointed seldom dares to question the policy of the existing Government to which it owes its existence. Despite a few good appointments made by Mr. St. Laurent in recent years, the Senate has almost entirely lost the respect of the people.

Is it conceivable that at the beginning of a new and very fluid chapter in our politics something may be done at last to put the Senate on a new footing of public respect and real usefulness? The Liberal Party has defaulted on this old problem. We hope Mr. Diefenbaker will have something more constructive to suggest than the reward of sixteen tired Conservatives.

The Open Mouths

LIKE STATE SECRETARY DULLES, U.S. Senator Knowland seems prone to perpetration of those verbal blunders that cause embarrassment and strain both at home and abroad.

The California Republican has proposed, apparently in all seriousness, that the United States trade the neutralization of Norway in return for a Soviet withdrawal from Hungary. This deal would remove the northern NATO member from that alliance and ban its armaments from the Soviet flank.

As a theoretical balance to the delivery of Hungary from Russian occupation it might carry some sort of logic. But as a practical proposal it ranks with the often-quoted U.S. proposal to take over Canada in return for liquidation of Britain's war debts to the United States.

Norway, as a sovereign nation, could in no conceivable way be traded off like a colony or chattel. It is an equal partner in NATO—equal to the United States in principle if not in size.

Senator Knowland's remark indicates an inconceivable mental isolation from the realities of his country's relations with its allies, or else a completely cynical concept of U.S. foreign policy. In either case his words can only add fuel to communist charges that American foreign aid connotes imperialism by the giver and vassalage on the part of the beneficiary.

Such a comment, floating into the critical eastern Mediterranean at a time when the Eisenhower Doctrine, for instance, is under heavy communist attack, could do more harm to the cause of world peace than apparently Mr. Knowland can imagine.

At best, America's allies will be able to muster only amused tolerance for the originator of the proposal. How America's enemies will react should soon be in evidence.

Rough on the Waiter

THE VICTORIA LABOR COUNCIL has taken up with the Attorney General the case of a Victoria waiter fined $300, with a 90-day jail option, for serving beer to a minor.

This is not the first case of its kind to attract public attention. Nor is it the first time a protest has been laid against the high penalty imposed on the waiter compared to the relatively mild punishment administered to the minor.

Obviously a stiff penalty has been established to discourage any carelessness among beer parlor employees. If they know they face a heavy fine upon conviction for serving minors, they are going to be more careful than if conviction in such cases brought little more than a slap on the wrist.

There are, however, cases in which an injustice is apparently done to waiters. In the rush hours they may quite easily serve minors who appear to be 21 or older.

There is, moreover, another point raised by the Victoria Labor Council in its presentation to the Attorney General. That body notes that the minor concerned was fined only $25. If there was an offence, is the minor any less culpable than the adult in such instances? We suggest that in any division of guilt, the minor's share is the heavier. He knows how old he is.

Where it is necessary to impose a harsh financial discipline for such offences, then common justice should see that the minor, the provocateur as it were, should escape with no lighter punishment than the adult whom he brings into trouble.

It is to be hoped the Attorney General will find some way—and an effective way—to overcome a situation which apparently leads to substantial injustice.

Foolishness at Loch Ness

AN OFFICIAL OF AN ELECTRONICS firm has announced plans for a scientific expedition to survey the depths of Loch Ness to determine whether the celebrated sea monster is real or imaginary.

This looks like a pretty good publicity stunt for the electronics firm, nothing more.

Seeing, they say, is believing. But not seeing needn't mean not believing. How is any electronic device going to prove that there is or is not such a thing as the Loch Ness monster when obviously there is, whether the monster is obvious or not.

The Loch Ness monster is the grandfather of modern day aquatic freaks. It is the antecedent of Oogopo, lonely creature of the Okanagan, and of Cadborosaurus, friendly visitant of the Juan de Fuca Strait. It is cousin to the Sasquatch and the yeti.

All the Loch Ness electronic adventure will prove will be the virtues of the devices that are used. It cannot prove or disprove the existence of a monster. Such things were placed beyond question years ago by the writer of an editorial for the New York Sun—an editorial which concluded, "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus."

"I Don't Like This Any More Than You Do"

LOOSE ENDS

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

Back to the Green Standard

EVEN though you have seen it many times before, the wilderness at this season is always surprising. It is especially surprising in its steady rhythm and stable government, after a political upheaval in the affairs of men.

The wilderness government never lacks a majority, a vegetable majority, in which the animal, including man, is a permanent minority, an impotent opposition.

Always the majority has its way. The few square yards that I cleared last year already are growing up. The ruling party has moved in again after a small, temporary retreat. One or two of its leaders were cut down by my saw and burned in my stove but successors have risen to take their place. The majority grimly enforces its perpetual closure. The forest's democracy is more ruthless than man's.

BUT at least the minority knows where it stands and what it is up against. It stands in shadow and darkness. It is up against the largest power on earth. Moreover, government here means exactly what it says. It never equivocates, promises or threatens but, ignoring all interruptions, goes steadily about its business.

A human cabinet is always quarrelling, improvising and leaking its sworn secrets. The cabinet of confiers never raises its voice above the whisper of the tree tops, its secrets are safe and its decisions are unanimous.

Its policy is always the same, the policy of continual growth. And when man, the minority, hears the official utterances of the majority, the sound of wind in the high branches, the crackle of dry underbrush, the chuckle of water on the beach, he knows that the government means exactly what it says.

IT means that man may sometimes score a little debating point with his axe and saw, may occasionally raise a minor procedural argument but will be invariably defeated when the division is called and the votes are counted.

It is reassuring to find also, after certain recent events, that nature's budget is still in perfect balance. The wilderness is never over-taxed. Only man is over-taxed and he over-tax himself, by his own folly, in attempting to upset the laws of a treasury based on the reliable green standard.

MAN, in his tiny cleared spaces beyond the wilderness, may decide, as he decided in a recent election, that public debt shall never be reduced, that debt reduction is, indeed, a financial and moral crime.

The forest neither contracts nor repays debt. It borrows nothing and owes nothing. For all its huge annual expansion, cell or cell, it remains precisely the same in total expenditure, operating cost and volume. Its gross product and net income cannot vary. There is no inflation or deflation.

Yet the forest has its cycles, longer and much more calculable than the cycles of man's business.

WHERE man briefly interferes with these arrangements and cuts down the forest, the evergreen is quickly followed by the deciduous cycle, as the earth covers itself with fireweed, maples, willows and alder, but within a year or two you can see the confiers, the old dominant party, the destined ruling class, on its way back. Defeat and opposition are passing incidents.

Besides this thrifty, efficient administration men's affairs in the forest are always deranged and chaotic.

HIS budget is never in balance. With all his labor he can hardly keep enough wood on hand to warm his cabin. The trails cut last year are almost obliterated. The roof has sprung new leaks. The ants, that splinter party which campaigns day and night on a policy of destruction, are gnawing at the foundations and nibbling at the treasury. Squirrels, who have no sense of social responsibility or the laws of property, build their nests in the attic. Mice consume the public domain.

Thus man escapes from one election only to find himself plunged into another, an election that he can never hope to win. But he can have a lot of fun losing it.

Neighbor's View

The Seattle Times

Most Americans have a distinct admiration for the manner in which Canadians conduct their affairs. The art of government north of the border seems to be practised with a little more dignity and decorum than in the United States. And those who believe in the virtues of parliamentary rule find it eminently well exemplified in the Canadian system.

To the American onlooker it seems certain that Canada will continue to flourish no matter which of its major political parties holds office. Defeat on either side would not have been a national calamity. Doubtless Canadians experience similar feelings of detachment over our own more feverish Republican-Democratic campaign antagonisms.

In any event, it is a solace to know that the Canadian election is not apt to produce any great upheaval in Her Majesty's dominion on this continent. Everything is under control and well in hand in North America, from Hudson Bay and the Yukon to the Rio Grande and the Gulf.

DENNIS THE MENACE

From Our Files

June 20, 1897 — Nearly 15,000 persons were on Beacon Hill for the Queen Victoria Diamond Jubilee services. The massed bands of the Fifth Regiment and HMS Imperieuse took part, and a choir of 300 voices.

June 20, 1917 — A government commissioner will hear the cases of the street car company and the striking employees it is announced. Service in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster will resume when he is appointed.

June 20, 1937 — One million tons of water fell on Victoria during the last two weeks. The two-inch fall set a record for early June. Previous was in 1890, with 1.98 inches.

As Our Readers See It

Careful Drivers

There is no need to add this voice to the consolidated viewpoint that Mr. Claude Cole—or any single one of the drivers for Veteran Stages—did not drive through Belmont Park without the maximum of caution.

These drivers have been repeatedly commended by passengers for the skill and caution with which they unfailingly drive through the streets of Belmont Park where small children seem not to be discouraged from playing.

It is with complete sympathy towards this unfortunate bus driver that all passengers respond.

Annual Treat

I write to mention the annual treat of the Red Cross Lodge to the veterans and their friends.

This party has been given ever since the Red Cross Lodge opened and, as usual, was a great success.

There was bingo and community singing. For refreshments, turkey sandwiches with cranberry sauce, cookies of different kinds, tea, coffee and soft drinks. And for entertainment, Mrs. Thomas had brought in a swell bunch of entertainers from outside.

We missed one familiar face, Bob Knight. We hope he will be able to attend next year.

However, Bill Hudson made a very good master of ceremonies. Thank you, Mrs. Thomas.

Saanich and Progress

On Monday evening last I sat through most of the Saanich Council's meeting when a slow, argumentative manner was again shown by most of the councillors. This is typical of Saanich's progress in the 25 years I have known them.

Having mailed my protest against the stubborn refusal of the councillors to give us the chance of progress and modern trends by considering amalgamation, I was given the opportunity to speak.

I told the councillors if they were seen on TV they would not be elected next December. I also complimented Reeve Ash on his open-mindedness and staunch attitude.

One councillor asked me how he was to know how the people felt on amalgamation. If he does not know—he should not be accepting our money nor holding such a position. How can he represent us?

I'm pleased to see a former councillor, T. J. O'Neill, supporting Reeve Ash by his letter in the newspaper.

Come on Saanich ratepayers let's step ahead, not be dormant as some of our councillors would have us be. May our Municipal Affairs Minister see that we are not deprived of representation.

British C. of L.

While A. J. Broome's good intentions are to be admired, his seeming support of so-called Labor parties and lack of information concerning certain events that took place in Great Britain may not be. His "tremendous economic differences of the two countries," (post war Britain and Canada) are minute in comparison to their similarities.

Both are based upon wage-labor and capital. A labor-type government can only legislate in the interest of capital, whether the economy at the time is "weak" or strong.

The people who have voted them into power have never done so with the idea of ending this social system and replacing it with one that places the needs of humanity first. Their only hope was that the Labor government could operate the profit system in the interests of the people. Of course this didn't happen.

Doesn't Mr. Broome realize that governments have always needed a mandate to effect most legislation, whether the support is intelligent or otherwise? Even dictatorships need the support of a goodly proportion of the populace, in order to continue in power.

From 1945 till 1951 the Labor government urged the workers to cease pressing for higher wages and to work harder so that more export markets could be captured. In 1949 the pound was devalued for the same purpose, but the cost of living went up. In 1951, when popular support shifted to the Conservatives, and Labor was dethroned, the Cost of Living Index stood at 129, seven points higher than the wage index.

The government was Labor, yes, but a labor of love, for capitalism as usual.

Illuminated Cross

I wonder if it is too late to suggest a B.C. Centennial project which I humbly believe would receive more unanimous support than those projects which have so far been recommended?

I would like to see an Illuminated Cross erected in a suitable location such as Mt. Tolmie large enough to be visible from Port Angeles on clear nights. I would suggest that there be access within so as to make it an interesting sightseeing attraction for visitors.

I feel that our efforts of gratitude for the 100 years of free gifts of this wonderful province and country would be well directed toward increasing our spiritual awareness. Surely our children would understand a project such as this and be able to support it and I am sure our American neighbors would be appreciative of our efforts to send them our love and friendship.

Scouts Apple Day

In view of the phenomenal growth of the Boy Scout movement in Greater Victoria over the past five years and the problems imposed by such growth and expansion, it is necessary to look around for some projects to bolster our finances.

The Boy Scouts Association is a member of the Greater Victoria Community Chest but with the rapid increase in our budget the Chest finds it impossible to meet our requests at present.

On June 29 with kind permission of all the municipalities of Greater Victoria, the Boy Scouts Association will hold an Apple Day. The success of this project depends on everybody—association officers and members, Group Committees, Ladies Auxiliaries, Scouters, Rover Scouts, Boy Scouts, Sea Scouts, Wolf Cubs.

FROM WASHINGTON

By WALTER LIPPMANN

A Job for All

"ANYONE coming from Europe," said Barbara Ward Jackson at the Harvard Commencement, "must candidly report that distaste for the Atlantic Association is widely expressed . . . the distrust, the envy, the fear of American power and competition—

Lippmann

—which are inevitable given the nation's relative strengths—are now unchecked by any opposite sense of working with America to achieve any legal purpose and of experiencing first-hand the energy, the vitality, and the imagination which America can bring to any high task it proposes to itself."

The high task, which Lady Jackson had in mind, would be one like the Marshall Plan 10 years ago, in which a free coalition of nations would unite "in time of peace to achieve some great and constructive aim."

Reading her sensitive and eloquent words, I find myself wondering what has happened in these 10 years, why it is that Western nations are no longer united in some great, overriding, common enterprise.

Changed Conditions

Have the people and their leaders deteriorated, and are they less high-minded and farseeing and bold than they were when they came together in the Marshall Plan? Or have conditions changed, and are the Western nations confronted with problems which are very different indeed from those which they dealt with ten years ago?

The Marshall Plan was addressed to the recovery of Western Europe from the damage and the dislocation of the war. All the nations participating in it, including the United States which financed the dollar requirements, were jointly and severally, as a community and as separate nations, vitally interested in making the plan a success.

In Europe, the failure of the plan would have meant great misery, and in more than one nation social upheaval and perhaps civil war.

For the United States, the failure of the plan might well have meant the loss of its best friends and allies, and a dangerous isolation in an unfriendly world. The Atlantic nations were, as Lady Jackson put it, working with America to achieve a large purpose. But that large purpose was the rescue and the salvation of the Atlantic nations themselves, and their vital interests were directly engaged.

What, we must ask ourselves, is the large purpose today which might unite them once more in "some great and constructive aim?"

Vital Necessity

Can anything develop it today? Or is the Western world spellbound by the great boom that now prevails almost everywhere?

Ten years ago it was a vital necessity that Western Europe should recover, and it was that necessity which inspired and animated the common enterprise of the Marshall Plan. Is there today any similar necessity, one which is central, which engages all the Atlantic nations jointly and severally, which catches the vital interests of the masses of the people?

I think there is. It grows out of the race of armaments which is fast becoming a critical problem not only in international affairs but in the internal affairs of all the military powers.

The great dispute over our own budget is really about the effects on our civilian life of the enormous and the mounting costs of armaments. In all Western countries public life is dominated by the same issue of military versus private and public civilian spending.

Central Task

We need have no illusions about the difficulty of coming to an agreement among ourselves and with Russia which would limit and stabilize the competition in armaments. But this is the central and overriding task today as was the recovery of Western Europe ten years ago.

The task is certainly not to disarm while the world is so divided. Perhaps it is not even to reduce substantially the present scale of armaments. The task is to bring the competition itself under international control before it becomes intolerably costly, and before the tensions of the nuclear testing and of the threat of nuclear war brings us to some breaking point.

A Day at Sea

I SHALL never be a real newspaperwoman because half the time when my mind should be grappling with facts and figures, it's wandering off on daydreams of its own.

Take Monday, for instance, when, with better-qualified members of the press, I went gadding for a cruise aboard the destroyer-escort which will be commissioned as HMCS Fraser on June 28.

Because we were given Press Kits with official information I know that her overall length is 366 feet, her beam is 42 feet, and her displacement is 2,800 tons. I know that her speed is over 25 knots, that her peacetime complement is 12 officers and 138 men, that her guns are two twin 3-inch 50-calibre anti-aircraft, that her anti-submarine weapons are two triple mortar mountings.

Ruth

I listened carefully to what we were told about the electronic apparatus which locates and tracks the submarines and fires the mortar at the correct moment. But I couldn't begin to understand it, and, if you ask me, a lot of the men didn't understand it either.

With a housewife's eye, I noted the absence of hammocks, the arrangement of bunks with ribbon springs and foam mattresses. I took in, with envy, the electrically-equipped galley, the dishwashing machine, the laundry, the lighting arrangement of the main dining hall.

I saw the sick bay with its four berths, bathroom, and an operating table with the latest type of lights.

I listened to a mention of rubber rafts which inflate automatically on release into the sea.

And then my mind slipped off to Sir Francis Drake and the Armada. From somewhere, I remember "At Flores, in the Azores, Sir Richard Grenville lay." I tried hard to remember what Nelson did at the Battle of St. Vincent, not to mention Aboukir Bay and Trafalgar.

I thought of Jules Verne and the mysterious captain of the Nautilus.

I thought of how Canada's own navy was only started in 1910. Less than half a century ago.

I began to wonder what some of the famous naval figures of the past would have thought of this ship of 1957.

I began to wonder what the people of the distant future would think of the queer old-fashioned ship that we look upon as a marvel of modern science.

I tried to think of the many people whose labors and research and even suffering or death had gone into the planning and the making of this ship.

Every ship that's launched, I thought, is built upon the past. It's just a stage in the never-ending flow of history. And, when you really break it down, history is just the record of actual human beings.

Which is probably a crazy reaction to all the automatic controls and to the marvels made possible by modern science.

But when we stand in silent worship before these scientific marvels, I think we might as well remember that originally they sprang from the mind of Man.

Soak Roots of Raspberries

Raspberries canes which are now forming their fruits will benefit from a deep and thorough soaking at their roots, followed by a mulch of rotted manure or good compost.

It also pays to keep the soil well moistened around bramble fruits, and give them an extra soaking as their fruit forms.

Extra early strawberries can be yours next year if suitable runners (healthy runners are selected now, from young plants are pegged into pots, and moved larger pots, or another bed, in August.

Use three-inch pots filled with a good fibrous loam and sand mixture, made very firm. Sink the pots into the present strawberry bed, between the rows, and peg or anchor a runner on top of each pot.

Jack

In August these plants may be transferred to six-inch pots for den and covered with a portable storage in a cold frame until forcing time next spring, when they are moved to the protection and slight warmth of the greenhouse. Lacking a greenhouse, the rooted runner plants may be put into a specially prepared bed in a sheltered part of the garden and covered with a portable cold frame or the continuous glass cloches in late December.

The soil in this bed should contain a high proportion of humus to hold moisture and give a steady supply to the roots of the plants as fruit forms.

Liquor Outlets Plenty, Says A-G

Sale of beer and wine in B.C. grocery stores still is a long way off, Attorney General Robert Bonner indicated Wednesday.

"There is no change in our thinking that we have sufficient liquor outlets," Mr. Bonner said. He was commenting on the results of a survey taken by the Retail Merchants' Association which showed that Vancouver grocers are in favor of selling beer and wine.

Are X-Rays Dangerous

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic, and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Of late, there have appeared in the public prints so many alarmist articles on x-rays that many persons have become worried. Now they fear even to have their teeth x-rayed or to get an occasional x-ray examination made of their chest or their stomach or bowels. I have read a number of the articles in which able scientists have discussed this subject, and I am not alarmed. I will not worry about getting x-rayed every year during my annual check-up.

Dr. Alvarez

I know intimately a number of physicians in x-ray work who, for 30 years or more, have examined many patients a day back of the fluorescent screen in the dark room, and hence have received enormously more radiation than any patient will ever get, unless he has strenuous treatment for cancer or some other serious disease. And these friends of mine do not appear to have suffered in any way. In their 60s and 70s they are healthy. I think this is an unanswerable argument.

As my son, Professor Luis W. Alvarez pointed out last year in a long article in "Research Reviews," standards of safety have been set up, and all capable men are now on watch to avoid injuring anyone. My good friend, Dr. Dwight H. Murray, president of the American Medical Association, has just written an article in which he says he feels that in the hands of experts the several types of radiation are safe enough. There is no need for getting excited.

ELECTROSHOCK TREATMENTS

A woman writes angrily to say that I had no right to mention electroshock treatments for helping women in a bad depression, such as can come with the menopause. She says that she had too many electroshocks; she kept getting them long after they failed to do her any good, and they have now disturbed her memory a bit. She feels that they should now be prohibited by law. I am sorry, but the lady is wrong. She ought to see some of the many depressed persons who are quickly brought out of a melancholia with a few electroshocks. It is one of the miracles of present-day medicine.

SYNOPSIS—Cloudy cover is general in most regions of British Columbia this morning but shower activity has occurred only in the central areas of the province. A weak ridge of high pressure now building over the coast gives promise of gradual improvement in the weather picture. A gradual decrease in cloudiness and slight increase in afternoon temperatures are to be expected in the next 24 to 48 hours.

Toronto Registers 4th Straight Drop

Market at Toronto continued its fourth straight decline today. Industrial losses outnumbered gains more than 3 to 1, with refining oils and pipelines taking the heaviest losses.

Hudson Bay and International Nickel, with 1 1/2 point declines, led senior base metals lower. Noranda was off one point to 49.

The market at New York remained irregular today with a downward tendency. Selected issues gained. Steels and aircrafts showed some fair gains.

AT TORONTO uranium was lower in almost a solid line. Can-Met was down 25 cents. Denison lost 1/4 at 18 1/4.

Security ran against the trend in western oils, posting a 20-cent gain at $6.35. Pacific Petroleum was off 1/4 to 31 1/4.

AT NEW YORK Canadian issues taking losses included International Nickel, down 1 1/2. Aluminum Ltd., down 1, and McIntyre down 1/2.

Canadian gainers on the American exchange included Fargo Oil ahead 3 1/2, and Brazilian Traction and Scurry Rainbow, each up 1/4.

AT MONTREAL industrial stocks were depressed today in moderately active trading on the stock exchange.

In metals, International Nickel fell 2 1/2 to 100 1/2. Noranda slipped 1/2 to 49 1/2. Consolidated Paper was one of the big losers in its category, giving away 1 1/2 at 32 1/2.

AT LONDON the undertone remained satisfactory today on the stock exchange, aided by a selective demand for equities.

Fixed-interest securities were neglected and tended to ease. Company news was the dominating influence among industrial stocks, which showed selective firmness.

Dollar stocks showed early dullness but Canadian issues tended to improve. South African gold shares showed firmness.

AT VANCOUVER a quiet market saw little change in prices. Futurity moved 3,000 at 79. Vantor sold 3,600 between $2.48 and $2.51. Cowichan Copper moved 4,400 at $1.17. Skeena sold 3,000 at 10.

Accountants Award First Fellowship

First fellowship in the 45-year history of the General Accountants Association was awarded retiring president W. C. McCalpin, CGA, RIA, ACI of Vancouver at the annual convention in Vancouver June 13 to 16.

President-elect is Mr. L. Rubin of Winnipeg, now visiting Victoria with his wife.

In attendance at the sessions from Victoria were B. Bralley, E. Charlton, W. Duck, R. Head, W. T. Mann, G. McLeod, O. Prentice and W. Tapp.

NEW YORK (CP) — The Canadian dollar was at a premium of 4 1/2 in terms of U.S. cents today. The sterling was unchanged at 82 1/2.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Most prices moved in narrow limits and generally lower in moderate active trade today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Selling appeared in all grains, prompted by favorable crop reports and rain in the grain-growing belt.

Only overseas business reported was in barley where small parcel sales were made to the United Kingdom.

Oats had domestic support and hedges made up most of the offerings. Barley uncovered export and shipping orders.

Flax was less active than usual with export house buying and shipping purchases made on declines. Offerings were in the form of hedges made up most of the offerings. Barley uncovered export and shipping orders.

Wheat and corn were off fractionally most of the time, since the favorable weather should get the wheat harvest in full swing and aid farmers in planting the remainder of their corn crop. Rye reacted rather sharply at times on profit taking.

Voting Cost Workers Pay, Union Charges

Action Up to Employees Themselves, Victoria Labor Council Told

A Victoria Labor Council delegate charged Wednesday certain employers had deprived workers of their vote in June 10 federal election.

Statement was made following a report by public relations committee chairman James Moffat, who said he knew of "specific cases" in his own carpenters' union, where men were not granted allowable time off without loss of pay in order to vote.

He referred to the Canada Elections Act, which stipulates employers must allow their workers three clear hours before polls close to enable all eligible to cast ballots.

He knew of some employers who let employees off for a half hour election day.

A similar situation about four years ago, he said, resulted in advice from the city prosecutor that any action would have to be initiated by affected employees themselves.

Clifton Parker, speaking for operating engineers, said he knew of 70 men in his union who were granted the time off their jobs, but that they received a pay cut.

For some employers the requirement presents a "tough situation," teamsters' agent Robert Milliken said.

For example, he cited bus drivers or truckers engaged in house-moving.

IWA representative John MacKenzie said it is the operator's responsibility to see that employees get the required time, and suggested those who had their pay cut should take grievance procedure.

"Some workers have been de-

TRADE UNION WORKER TIPS LAUNDRY JOB

A unionist helpfully tipped employers outside his own field to a business prospect Wednesday night.

At Victoria Labor Council, Street Railwaymen's Union delegate Joe Belton told laundry workers' delegates B.C. Electric Co. would soon need a firm to contract monthly dry cleaning of 200 new bus drivers' uniforms.

He suggested their bosses put in tenders for the job.

Decision to supply uniforms to drivers was made recently by the company.

"We've ridden around for years in any-colored shirts . . . rags, bags and bones . . . the company is at last coming up with a uniform," Belton said.

He asked for a resolution to bring in union help for anyone deprived of his rightful time to vote, but the meeting merely accepted Mr. Moffat's report.

AUDITORIUM SUPPORT SHELVED

Labor Men Wait Centennial Action

Victoria Labor Council has thrown in the towel on a Greater Victoria centennial project until local municipal councils show more signs of getting together.

The labor group through its own committee and delegate on the local committee had supported and auditorium, but gave up when it was reported the Centennial Committee would not approve it because it could not be completed next year.

Council Wednesday night approved a resolution by committee delegate Clifton Parker, that "we should wait and see what they can come up with."

The labor council regretted the lack of decision resulting from the wrangling of the municipalities, Mr. Parker said.

Local municipal councils will be asked by the labor council to give preference to unionized firms when letting contracts.

No consideration is given at present, it was claimed, and a city contract for paving Douglas Street north of the Fountain Circle has gone to a company paying non-union wages.

Council will try again to bring its request for night meetings of city council before the aldermen.

A letter to city council had been given the "brush off," said Percy Raymond, chairman of the legislative committee.

"We should send a delegation to council and lay it on the line," Mr. Raymond said.

The meeting approved his proposal, after I.W.O. delegate Edwin Haw said council was approaching the matter from the wrong angle, and should be seeking higher salaries for elected municipal officials to compensate for lost working time.

The labor council had requested the night meetings so that workers could attend and more working class people would be encouraged to run for office.

Percy Raymond, head of a delegation which went to Attorney-General Robert Bonner this week to seek changes in B.C. liquor laws to relieve the heavy onus on beer parlor waiters who serve minors, said the attorney-general was sympathetic.

"They are ready to make a change if a satisfactory solution to the problem can be found," Mr. Raymond said.

Roman Catholics Attracted By Graham's 'Christ Appeals'

NEW YORK (UP)—More Protestant denomination, the than 1,000 of the 20,046 persons spokesman said.

The remainder "for the most part have simply said that making decisions for Christ will help them become better Catholics," according to the spokesman.

Catholics have been warned by some priests that mere attendance at a Graham sermon is forbidden by church doctrine.

"When Catholics come for More than half the Roman ward to make decisions for Catholics who have made 'de Christ, they are treated very cisions' have indicated they carefully, they get special han wish to affiliate with some dling," the spokesman said.

'Negligible' Fall-Out in H-Bomb Test

LONDON (AP)—Radioactive fall-out from the explosion of Britain's third hydrogen bomb test in the Christmas Island area Wednesday was negligible, the supply ministry said today.

The blast was the last in the current series of experiments. As in the two previous tests, it was dropped from a Valiant jet plane and exploded at high altitude.

The ministry gave no details on the third blast. Atomic weapons research officials and task force personnel were sent telegrams congratulating them "on the successful conclusion of this operation," the announcement added.

FIRST BLAST MAY 15
Britain exploded her first hydrogen weapon May 15 to join the United States and Russia as the world's H-bomb powers. The first explosion was said to have been equal to 1,000,000 tons of TNT. The second, and biggest, of the three blasts took place May 31.

The tests were carried out despite widespread opposition at home and abroad, especially from Japan.

In Tokyo, 20 leftist Japanese students and pacifists assembled in front of the British Embassy to protest the third blast. It was the smallest and least active of the demonstrations which have followed the previous explosions.

Canada Driving For U.S. Workers

NEW YORK (UP)—Canada has embarked on a unique and successful campaign to outbid the United States in its own backyard.

Without fanfare or fuss the Canadian government recently opened immigration offices here and in Chicago to syphon off some of the vast manpower resources of the world's richest nation.

Already plans are underway to expand the campaign to the west coast.

"We don't expect to de-populate New York, but there has been a tremendous upsurge of interest in Canada among U.S. workers," said Hubert Thompson, who runs the immigration office here.

"Since we opened officially May 1 we have been handling about 25 inquiries a day. Many of these are from small businessmen who are anxious to participate in the opportunities of Canada's buoyant economy," he added.

Thompson's office handles only applications from U.S. citizens and permanent residents in the U.S. Any other applicants are referred back to the Canadian Embassies in their home countries.

5th Amendment Plea Presented By Beck's Aide

SEATTLE (AP)—The King County grand jury which is investigating, among other things, the affairs of the Teamsters' Union and its president, Dave Beck, ran into the fifth amendment Wednesday—from Beck's secretary.

The secretary, Mrs. Marcella M. Guiry, pleaded the fifth amendment when presented a question the nature of which was not disclosed outside the jury room.

The impasse was revealed when Victor Lawrence, a special deputy prosecutor for the grand jury, called Superior Judge Lloyd Shore's office for advice. The judge was home and King County prosecutor Charles O. Carroll then asked him to come to the court house.

The judge declined, saying he didn't consider the situation an emergency.

SCLEROSIS CURE POSSIBLE

WINNIPEG (CP)—Dr. C. E. G. Gould of Vancouver said Wednesday night that a cure for multiple sclerosis, one of the most crippling of afflictions, is not beyond the realms of possibility.

Dr. Gould told the annual meeting of the Manitoba Chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada that research is focussing more and more on biochemical and metabolic processes of nerve functions because multiple sclerosis is a disease of the nerves and not psychiatric.

OH NO, IT COULDN'T HAPPEN AGAIN!

Expression on face of Victoria's Bob Dobbie (19) suggests he could be wondering if he ever was going to fire a shot into the Nanaimo net as he watches another drive bounce off Timberman goalie Fred Fulla in Inter-City Lacrosse League game at Memorial Arena Wednesday night. Dobbie, who had wheeled past Nanaimo's Don Ashbee (6) and Mike Good (5) on this try, was stopped on seven close-in shots by Fulla. He finally broke scoring ice late in the third quarter as Rocks won, 14-8, to break first-place deadlock with T-Men.

INDIES OUT FOR 137; 7 WICKETS TO BAILEY

England jumped into a good position in the second test cricket match against the West Indies, which opened at Lord's Cricket grounds at London today.

Winning the toss, West Indies elected to bat but couldn't solve the combination of England's speed bowlers and the fast wicket and were all out for 137 runs.

Doing most of the damage for England was Essex veteran Trevor Bailey. Playing in his 50th test, Bailey tumbled seven Indies wickets while yielding only 44 runs.

England also had trouble with the pitch and lost three wickets for only 40 runs.

Stan Smith Hurls Orphans to Win

Stan Smith pitched Victoria Orphans to an 8-3 Mid-Island Baseball League victory over Dairy Queens, Wednesday night, at Royal Athletic Park.

Smith, who struck out 11 batters, received solid batting support from his mates, especially Des Moseley, who poked a double and three singles.

So Now Look What He Does!

Don Hoak, a guy with a one-track mind, was back at the same old stand today, carrying on a personal campaign to put Cincinnati in the World Series and keep Brooklyn out of it.

The Dodgers can't figure Hoak. They gave him his first chance in the Big Leagues, cut him in for a full world series share in 1955 when he was with them and did everything they could to make him happy. And now, look at the thanks they're getting!

He blasted a two-run homer last night, for example, that beat the Dodgers, 4-3, and snapped a four-game Cincinnati losing streak.

NO FAVORITES

Hoak isn't playing any favorites, either. The victim of his game-winning homer last night was Brooklyn's ace reliever, Clem Labine. Only 11 days ago, Hoak whacked a two-run homer off Don Drysdale to defeat the Dodgers, 3-1, in the opener of a doubleheader and then he eluded another home run off Ed Roebuck to help Redlegs take the nightcap 3-0.

He started this one-man crusade on May 8 when he came up with a three-run circuit off Don Newcombe to give Cincinnati a 7-6 triumph. No wonder the Dodgers are hoping he gets lost somewhere, anywhere!

Hoak's homer last night came in the seventh inning on the heels of a pinch two-run homer by Bob Thurman. That four-run rally spelled the seventh victory of the season for Tom Acker, who trailed, 3-0, until the seventh.

St. Louis Cardinals climbed to within a half game of the pace-setting Braves by sweeping a two-night doubleheader from Pittsburgh, 5-2 and 5-1, while Milwaukee blanked the Giants, 6-0, and the Cubs beat the Phillies twice, 9-0 and 4-3.

SOX TRIUMPH

In the American League, the White Sox stayed 2 1/2 games in front with a 3-1 decision over the Orioles; the Yanks crushed the Tigers, 10-2; Kansas City clipped Washington, 6-3, and Boston beat Cleveland, 6-0.

Sam Jones and Lindy McDaniel registered the Cardinals' pair of victories over the Pirates. Jones struck out 10 and pitched a seven-hitter in the opener which was decided in the seventh inning when Joe Cunningham's pinch two-run homer highlighted a three-run rally that snapped a 2-2 tie. The Cards got to the Cubs for three runs in the first inning of the nightcap and Stan Musial contributed his 15th homer.

Wes Covington, recently recalled from Wichita, slammed a three-run homer and Hank Aaron hit his 19th with the bases empty as Bob Buhl of the Braves handcuffed the Giants on four hits. Ruben Gomez was the loser.

Rookie Dick Drott of the Cubs held the Phils to three hits in the opener to notch his sixth victory with the aid of homers by Ernie Banks and Chuck Tanner. Walt Morin smashed two homers in the nightcap, driving in three of the Cubs' four runs. Moe Drabowsky was the winner with help from Turk Lown.

The White Sox took advantage of Art Ceccarelli's wildness to score two runs in the second inning, all they needed, on a pair of walks and run-producing singles by Jim Rivera and Bubba Phillips. Bob Keegan, making his first start since May

Whitey's Beaming Again As Rocks Play It Right

Bionda Scores Six Goals As Irish Whip Timbermen

By DOUG PEDEN

That carefree sparkle is back in Whitey Severson's eyes today.

The old light, which has flickered only briefly this season, was rekindled at Memorial Arena Wednesday night as coach Whitey watched his Victoria Shamrocks carve out a 14-8 Inter-City Lacrosse League triumph over Nanaimo Timbermen.

Victory boosted the Rocks two points in front of the T-Men Cup champions and assured them of no worse than a share of the league lead after they play a return engagement at Nanaimo Saturday night. But that isn't the main reason for Severson's new lease on life.

Although the Irish have been hovering around the top of the heap all season, Severson has been wearing a haunted look. His machine wasn't hitting on all cylinders.

Except on the night they ran circles around Vancouver Pilseners for a 13-9 win at Kerrisdale Arena, the talent-loaded

Penalties and the Big Guy, Says Harry

Both Bill Bamford and Bert Bertola suffered minor back injuries and sat out the second half, leaving the rearguard chores to Jackie Northrup, Lew Landess and Jack Howse.

Coach Harry Wipper of the Timbermen, who made his first playing appearance since undergoing a knee operation, viewed the result from a slightly different angle. "It was penalties and the big guy that beat us," he stated flatly.

The penalty record showed Nanaimo collected 14 of the 18 minutes in penalties called during the hard-checking tussle. The big guy, of course, was Jack Bionda.

Fifth One Took Starch From T-Men

Taking over goaltending duties for Alf Shuker, injured Monday in a car crash, Fulla showed the 3,425 fans that he has lost little, if any, of the ability that earned him all-star honors last season. Playing his first game of the current campaign, Fulla turned aside 30 drives and was particularly effective as the Timbermen stayed close until midway in the third quarter.

It was 2-2 as Bionda and McKay each scored twice in the opening quarter. Timbermen moved ahead briefly at 3-2 on Lisle Scott's tally but were trailing, 5-3, at the half.

They whittled the deficit to 6-3 before Bionda rammed through for his fourth and fifth goal. His spectacular fifth tally, scored as he dropped the ball into the net after feinting Arnie Dugan and Fulla half way out of the arena.

The Coaltowners appeared tired and confused as Alan Gill and Bob Dobbie each wrapped a goal around a tally by Joe White to make the count 10-6. And after that was just a question of what the final score would read.

Bionda was the only Victorian to collect more than one goal while Scott, who had two goals and an assist, and McKay with two tallies, were the only Nanaimo snipers to beat Shamrock goalie Gordy Johnston more than once. Johnston, in a steady display, turned aside 19 of the 27 shots fired at his cage.

LADIES' GOLF NOTES

A 12-member team from Victoria, made up of golfers from Gorge Vale, Colwood, Uplands and Victoria Ladies' Golf Clubs, will represent the provincial capital in the annual Hunting Cup matches at Vancouver on Sunday.

The squad, to be named later this week, will defend the trophy won by Victoria last year. The event, this season to be held at Capilano course, is staged annually prior to the start of the B.C. ladies' championship.

Although most of the team members are not expected to remain in Vancouver for the B.C. event, approximately six Victoria ladies, including city titlist Mrs. J. H. Todd of Oak Bay, will take part in the provincial championships.

News from ladies' sections of the city clubs this week have dealt with club championships. At Gorge Vale, second round of the club championship is scheduled Sunday morning, starting at 11. Defending champion Mrs. B. Thirlwell, Mrs. D. Naysmith and Mrs. C. Bryan all scored victories in the championship flight this week. Mrs. Thirlwell downed Mrs. A. Castle, 3 and 2, while Mrs. Bryan posted the same margin of victory over Nora O'Connell. Mrs. Naysmith defeated Mrs. R. A. Evans, 6 and 5 in another match.

At Colwood, Mrs. C. H. Harrell captured medal honors by scoring 93, one stroke better than defending champion Mrs. H. G. MacKenzie. Scores under 105 were good enough to qualify for the championship bracket.

Both Mrs. Harrell and Mrs. MacKenzie advanced into the second round Tuesday. Mrs. Harrell edged Mrs. G. Stelk 1 and 1, while Mrs. MacKenzie ousted Mrs. F. Green. Second round matches got under way this morning in the four flights.

The B championship is being staged at Uplands, Mrs. G. Quincey, defending Uplands champion and medal winner in the qualifying round, played Mrs. F. B. Shore today, while Mrs. T. Christie met Mrs. H. L. Woolson in another semifinal battle.

Finals in the match-play event are scheduled Friday. At Victoria club the ladies are in the midst of their annual Bronze Trophy competition. Semi-finals were run off today and the finals are slated for Friday.

Semi-finalists are Mrs. J. Stuart Keate and Mrs. J. H. L. Gillis, with the second match between Mrs. J. H. Wilson and Mrs. A. Roberts.

Oxygen Tanks May Do Trick

TORONTO (CP)—Members of Canada's team in the World Soccer Cup competition at Mexico City may have a solution to the problem of playing in the rarefied atmosphere of the Mexican capital. They intend to take some of their own air.

Trainer Roy Cavallin of Vancouver said Wednesday he will take with him a couple of tanks of oxygen and several plastic masks for the use of players who find it difficult to keep going at top speed in the thin air.

He said he found the oxygen worked with success when British Columbia All-Stars defeated Tottenham Hotspur of the English League several weeks ago.

PLAY SATURDAY The Canadian team, which plays the United States here Saturday night, will leave immediately afterward for Mexico City. The idea is to give them seven days to get used to the atmosphere there.

Games will be played at the University of Mexico stadium, on a plateau 7,500 feet above sea level.

The Kutis team from St. Louis, which plays here, will represent the United States in the world matches.

Eleven of the players selected for the Canadian team are native Canadians and are from British Columbia. Four from Toronto are foreign-born but have been in Canada the required five years to qualify.

Among the players from the coast are Ken Pears, one of the best goalkeepers in Canada who

Good-Neighbor Policy Boon to Victoria Clubs

Teams operating under the banner of the Victoria Canadian Football Union are in line for financial assistance from British Columbia Lions of the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Lions' offer was made known Wednesday night by president John Gault of the Victoria grid association at a general organizational meeting held in the British Public Schools club.

Terms of the subsidization call for each intermediate and junior team to receive up to $500 to be used in the purchase of equipment. Mid-juniors are eligible for $250.

All teams, said Gault, must apply for the subsidy on their own behalf.

Voices From the Deep May Make It Exciting

Those hollow sounds and rumblings being felt by the heads of the Saanich-Babe Ruth League could herald an upset, that may create rearrangements of team standings before too long.

Outdoor Supermarket served notice Wednesday that it was not happy with fourth place when they walloped Bapco Paint Supply 17-4 at Reynolds Road Park, behind the strong, three-hit hurling of Vern Pratt.

Key man in the win was plate-minder Steve Wallace, who lashed out with a bases-loaded triple and a double to drive in six runs.

Cosmopolitans pulled off an amazing win—at Carnarvon Park, in the Carnarvon Pony League, when they collected 12 runs on only two hits to nip Oak Bay Police 12-11.

Oak Bay started the scoring by bunting all of their runs in the first three frames, while the Cosmo's finished it off with three run-producing innings to win.

Automecs dropped a tight contest to Knsmen, 6-5, in American Little League action at Jaycee Park.

Brown Waits Until 15th To Catch Cuban Cutie

By LOUDON KELLY

DENVER (AP)—The lightweight champion, Joe Brown, quietly jubilant after his technical knockout victory Wednesday night in defence of his crown, said a left uppercut started Orlando Zulueta's downfall.

"I caught him with that left uppercut in the 13th round, and down he went," the champion said as he soaked his hands in a pail of ice water in his dressing room. "Then it was a combination of right hands to the head and right hands to the body that got him in the 15th."

MOST UNHAPPY

Zulueta and his manager, Hymie Wallman, were highly outraged over the referee's action. "I fell fine," the 28-year-old Cuban challenger said. "My head was clear. I wasn't a bit dizzy. Why did they have to stop it?"

The dejected Zulueta, whose loss marked his first knockout in 101 bouts, said this was the first time he'd been knocked off his feet.

"There was something in my eye—I had to wink, then he hit me with a right," Zulueta said in explaining the 15th round knock-down. Despite the 13th-round knockdown, the end came with dramatic suddenness for the Cuban who has never been kayoed before in a record of 100 professional fights.

The 30-year-old Brown was making his second successful defence of his title and it was his 88th pro fight.

REF BOOED

The crowd booed loudly when Keesh halted the battle. But to ringsiders there was no doubt it was all over.

Zulueta made it clear that a left hand isn't always enough. He stabbed Brown frequently but Brown bided his time. And when he saw his spot he boomed in with a load of right and left hooks that was too much for the Cuban, an 8-to-5 underdog.

Brown weighed 134½ and the challenger 133½.

Brown seemed puzzled at the Cuban's early swarming tactics but stuck with his plod-and-punch routine which pays off when he lands the big one.

Zulueta hit Brown with rights frequently in the early rounds but they lacked the necessary power and Brown shrugged them off.

Petrel Flies 17,000 Miles To Venezuela

SYDNEY, Australia (CP) — One of the longest recorded flights ever made by a bird has just come to light with the arrival in Venezuela, South America, of an Australian giant petrel.

It had travelled 17,000 miles from Heard Island, the Australian Antarctic outpost, over two oceans — the Indian and the Atlantic. It was identified by a metal band set on its leg by Australian scientists trying to check the migratory habits of the bird.

The giant petrel is a dark, chocolate-brown seabird, known to seamen and whalers as "Nelly." It nests in the islands of the sub-Antarctic.

PATIO LANDING

This particular specimen arrived last month in Maracaibo, Venezuela, 10,500 miles west and 5,500 miles north of Heard Island, where it had been caught, tagged and released.

According to a Venezuelan newspaper, it alighted on the patio of the home of Mrs. Hilda Josefina Gonzalez Virgil, among a group of hens. It was so exhausted that it showed no fear when she picked it up. She gave it water and food and it now is in the Venezuelan Institute of Natural Sciences.

Dr. Allan Keast, curator of birds at the Australian Museum, says the bird probably slept on the surface of the ocean during calm weather, and fed on young fish and shrimp.

Making his final tour of Canadian military establishments during his appointment to Canada, Brig. C. G. Page, DSO, OBE, visited Royal Roads Canadian Services College and Second Battalion Queen's Own Rifles Wednesday in a short stay at Esquimalt, B.C.

Brig. Page is United Kingdom army liaison officer with the office of the British High Commissioner, Ottawa.

FAMED CARTOONIST DIES — J. R. Williams, NEA Service Inc. cartoonist and creator of "Out Our Way," died at Huntington Memorial Hospital in Pasadena, Calif. He was 69. He had suffered a relapse following a recent operation and was returned to the hospital last week. A heart condition complicated by the post-operative conditions was assigned as cause of death. "Out Our Way" has been a regular feature of The Times for many years.

New Substation Planned by BCE On Quesnel St.
A new B.C. Electric substation is planned for construction on Quesnel Street between Summit and Topaz, it was learned today.

Victoria council public works committee was asked by the company to cancel plans to extend Quesnel in this area which is undeveloped at present. The company has acquired three lots and wants the street allowance cancelled in order to consolidate them.

The question was referred to city council by the committee.

Astronomers Decide Mars Has Weather

By RENNIE TAYLOR

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — Astronomers from more than a dozen countries have completed the first step of their co-operative effort to solve some of the mysteries of Mars, and plan to tackle the problem again in 1958.

The International Mars Committee voted Wednesday night to continue its world-wide operations with an enlarged administrative setup and to formulate a new program for observation of the red planet when it again comes close to the earth next year.

They did this after a three-day meeting in which they heard the first results of the observations made last year, when Mars came to within 40,000,000 miles of this planet.

Summarizing these reports, Dr. E. C. Slipher, committee chairman, said the initial work produced evidence that Mars may have weather something like that on earth, but with greater extremes of temperature.

MAY HAVE PRECIPITATION

The Martian polar cap, which shows up on many of the thousands of pictures taken, apparently is shaped something like a three-decker sandwich, with a foundation of surface material, a middle layer of ice and a white cloud in the atmosphere for a top.

The research also suggests, Dr. Slipher said, that something happens on the neighbor planet which causes part of its surface to darken suddenly but temporarily. This could be a moistening of the soil, he added, and if so, it means some kind of precipitation which would produce life-giving water for visiting earthlings in the future.

Research on the kind of life on Mars yielded some new evidence of the existence of organic matter but produced a belief among some observers that the living organisms are unlike anything on earth. Dr. Slipher reported that observers working with the committee took about 100,000 pictures of Mars during its 1956 approach and produced also a huge mass of reports which remain to be analyzed.

Lowell Observatory here, which for years has been the hub of Martian research, took about 38,000 of the pictures.

Parking Law Challenged By Taxi Firm

Validity of city streets, Traffic and Regulation By-Law and Taxi Cabs Regulation By-Law will be challenged in police court soon.

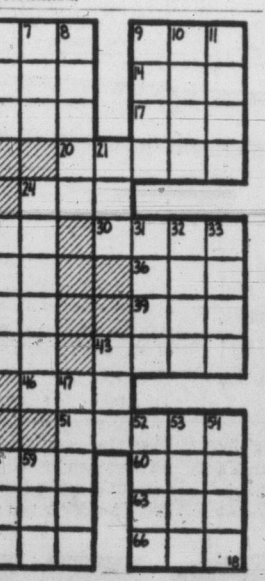

Lawyer James Proudfoot, acting for C. and C. Taxi Service Ltd. and for a driver for the firm, entered pleas of not guilty in city court Wednesday on alleged infractions of the by-laws.

Cases were remanded to June 24 to set dates for trial. Mr. Proudfoot said the by-laws are ultra vires in view of the new Motor Vehicles Act. The cab company is charged twice with improper parking of a car, and driver James R. Clarke, 922 Claremont, is charged with parking in a space other than a designated cab stand.

Five in Family Die As Home Burns Down

WEST CHAZY, N.Y. (AP) — A family of five died today when fire swept a home in this community near Plattsburgh, N.Y.

The victims were Edwin J. Fountain, 31; his wife, Marie, 27; and their children, Beverly, 8, Richard, 6, and James, 5. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Dorothy Schaffner, aged 11, of Omaha, Neb., for her question:

Who Discovered That the Earth is a Planet?

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to David Tomasko, aged 10, of Bridgeport, Conn., for his question:

How Are Magnets Made?

Small magnets are doing all sorts of jobs in the kitchen. They are sewn into pot holders and built into racks for holding knives and other steel kitchen tools. What they do is cling to metal. A magnetized pot holder will cling to the side of the refrigerator or any other steel surface. A magnetized rack will hold steel tools without the bother of hooks or slots. But these magnets do not keep their magic forever. They tend to turn back into ordinary iron bars. When their power fades, you can give them a new lease on life.

The first magnets were made by nature. The Greeks and Romans found them scattered on the ground. The strange, dark stones cling to iron clad sandals.

Will Act Just Like a Compass

It will pick up pins and cling to a metal surface. It has a north pole and a south pole. Test it with another magnet. Place them end to end. The two north poles will repel each other and spring apart. A north pole and a south pole will attract each other and cling together. Dangle your new magnet on a string and it will swing around so that its north seeking pole points north. Any bit of iron can be magnetized — and unmagnetized. The magic disappears when the iron is heated red hot. Blows and bumps also weaken the power. It is even possible to make a magnet that turns on and off. For this useful trick, a wire carrying electric current is wound around a plain iron bar. Huge electromagnets are made in this way. The powerful magic works when the current is on and stops when the current is turned off.

Subject Matter As Old As Hills

Andy sends a Hammond's Nature Atlas of America to Kathy Foulks, age 12, of Peoria, Illinois, for her question:

What is Ecology?

Ecology is a fairly new science in the scholarly world. Yet actually its subject matter is as old as the hills. It is the fascinating give and take of nature which makes our world possible. The word itself means the study of habitat, or living conditions. It concerns the many factors involved in the homes and lives of plants and animals.

For instance, the ecologist is not satisfied to learn that the kangaroo lives in Australia. He wants to know why, and also how, he lives there. He wants to know how his living conditions have changed him, what he was like in the past.

He wants to know how well the animal is built for his type of life, how the climate affects him.

He also wants to know what an animal eats and where he finds his food supply. This leads him to plants and other animals also living in the neighborhood. He sees that frogs live in a damp neighborhood where there are plenty of insects to eat and that snakes and small mammals live in the same neighborhood to feed on frogs and keep them from multiplying too fast.

There are several specialized branches of the fascinating study. But all point up the inter-relationships between living things and their environment. For ecology is the most fascinating study of all, the give-and-take which keeps the balance of nature.

Rated in Britain as England's biggest box-office hit since "Dr. in the House," this hilarious satirical romp on army life during World War II is an absolute scream.
The producers dedicated it to "All Those Who Got Away With It" and anyone remotely familiar with the army and its vagaries from raw recruit to "Colonel Blimp" will recognize quite a few of their favorite characters in this one.
Our hero, after several initial failures, performs an outstanding "Special Mission" much to his chagrin and pulls off a coup which ends with a surprising "twist."
Great family entertainment which we can heartily recommend.

Bigger Music Festival For Next Year

A successful Greater Victoria Music Festival this year has assured what might be an even better and bigger festival in 1958 according to reports received at the festival annual meeting, Wednesday.

A record entry list of 939 was partly responsible for the satisfactory financial situation. Admissions and season memberships, however, were also up considerably over the past two years.

New association president is Dudley Wickett, succeeding Dr. J. F. K. English who has had several terms of office and guided the festival through its formative first year.

Dr. English, in his address, commented on brighter prospects for the future consequent on the 1957 festival having been entirely self-supporting. Treasurer Peter Copeland revealed a favorable balance on hand and reported that the reserve fund had not been touched.

Reports of program chairman Harry Bigsby and awards chairman Dr. Henrietta Anderson, also were cheerful and optimistic in tone. It was felt that use of First United Fellowship Hall and Central Junior High School for several important events, had been an improvement over past arrangements.

Other officers elected were as follows: John Hayes, first vice-president; Harry Bigsby, second; Peter Copeland, treasurer; Miss Mary Saich, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Dorothy Greenhalgh, recording secretary; Dr. English, past president.

Appointed to the board of directors were Dr. Anderson, Mrs. J. F. K. English, Mrs. Audrey St. D. Johnson, Mrs. Edith Ellis, Miss Marjorie Tebo, Miss K. Jaffray, Miss Nancy Ferguson, Miss Margery Vaughan and H. C. O'Donnell.

Canadian Girls Nice, Weather Not, Says Prince Tungi of Tonga

TORONTO (BUP)—Prince Tungi of Tonga, who doubles as prime minister and chairman of his country's marketing board, thinks Canadian girls "look very nice" in blue jeans, but he deprecates Canada's weather.

The prince, here on a trade mission, told newsmen that, although Toronto's 90 degree weather doesn't match Tonga's average 95 temperature, "There we get breezes."

As for Canadian girls, he said, "they look very nice. I was a little surprised at seeing girls in slacks and jeans on the train, but it's sensible wear for curling up on the seats in the tourist car."

However, he feels jeans don't compare favorably with "a lounge." Its native costume—a piece of cotton you wrap around yourself. Very comfortable.

The prince is the son and heir apparent of Queen Salote, a six-foot-one monarch who stole the show at Queen Elizabeth's coronation when she waved and smiled to spectators as she rode in an open carriage through pouring rain to Buckingham Palace.

The prince is hoping to sell Tonga copra to this country to be used in soap, shortening and margarine.

"Most of our 56,000 people are small farmers, raising copra and bananas," he said. "We import timber from Canada, wheat from Australia and meat and dairy products from New Zealand."

Tonga, a group of British-protected coral islands in the South Pacific, is also known as "The Friendly Islands" because Capt. James Cook was hospitably treated there in 1773 during the height of his explorations.

CCF Picnic-Rally Arranged For Beacon Hill July 14

Plans for a picnic-rally in Beacon Hill Park on Sunday, July 14, have been laid by the local CCF organizations.

The public will be invited and it is hoped that some CCF MLAs and MPs will be on hand.

"We intend to finish off the recent federal election in a big

EASIER RIDE

Springs were introduced on British stage-coaches in 1789 by John Warde, also a famous fox-hunter.

way, and begin immediately to prepare for the next which will not be long in coming," said Vic Williams, CCF federal candidate.

A special fund-raising feature at the rally will be a giant map of B.C. on which the guests will be invited to stake a "claim" in the provincial resources.

It will be "hands off" the 40,000-square mile Wenner-Grenland however, which will be marked off as a Social Credit "graveyard."

KILTED SCOTS TO PERFORM RETREAT SHOW

Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) will perform retreat tonight on the Legislative Building lawn.

Parade marches on at about 8.30 with ceremonial flag-lowering following.

Final sunset service of the season for cadets of RCSCC Rainbow will be Friday night. On the basis of this performance, the corps will be judged against other units for the city's annual trophy for consistent smartness in the pageant.

Beer Load Blows Up Aboard Burning Truck

Most of a load of 1,700 dozen bottles of beer exploded when an Island Freight Service semi-trailer blew two tires and burst into flame on the Malahat early Wednesday.

Total damage was about $10,000; beer destroyed was worth $3,000 to $5,000 and repairs to the truck are estimated at $5,000.

Truck driver H. F. Good-enough, 1533 Oakland, was proceeding up Tunnel Hill at about 4.30 a.m. when a tire blew. Heat generated apparently blew a second tire on the double dual wheels and when Good-enough was able to pull the unit over to safety the tires had begun to burn.

Wind at the time was blowing away from the tires and the driver unhooked his tractor to go for Langford fire department. Meanwhile, the wind changed and flames began burning the trailer and other tires.

Firemen extinguished the flames which by that time ate into the bottom and sides of the trailer, exploding the bottled cargo.

PLEASURE AFLOAT

Yacht Racing Popular Here

By DON INGHAM

One of the nicest things about the Victoria waterfront, to residents and visitors, is the sight of sailboats on Cadboro Bay and elsewhere.

The local yachtsmen race a lot. Their competition program is long, and one class or another is on the water almost every breezy evening and Sunday. If they are not actually racing, they are getting ready for a race.

Pretty as their craft are, though, their manoeuvres present a picture of hopeless confusion to the untrained observer, who has no idea of who is racing whom, and of what kind of vessels are performing.

In order to help the layman,

Denny Coverdale, a young Star Class racer, reeled off the following statistics regarding the classes raced here.

First are the Frostbites, which fall into three divisions, the Sabot, eight feet in length, single sail, and one of a crew; Davidson, nine feet long, of moulded plywood, single sail, one of a crew; Penguin, 12 feet long, one sail, and crew of two.

Next largest is the 15-foot Snipe, raced with a crew of two and mounting two sails. It is a one-design class and can be used for day sailing.

The Lightning is 19 feet in length, is raced with a crew of three, and is permitted mainsail, jib and spinnaker. It also can be used for family sailing.

Star First Class on the List

The Star is the first out-and-out racing machine on the list. With a design unchanged since 1911, it is now being used with the third set of rigging designed for it. It carries a 900-pound fin keel, is raced by a crew of two, and is the fastest boat on the water of its length—23 feet.

Next largest up the scale is the Dragon, 29 feet long, with a small cabin but no overnight accommodation. It is raced by three persons, and can fly mainsail and either working jib, spinnaker or Genoa.

The Sailorette is a 26-foot craft sailed exclusively by members of the Royal Canadian Naval Sailing Association. It is allowed main, jib and spinnaker, and is handled by a crew of three in racing.

A brand new class is the Cub, 21 feet, and designed in Seattle. It has the same sail area as the Star, same type keel but weighing 1,100 pounds, and a round bilge. It is becoming popular because it offers complete accommodation for two, and is excellent for cruising in Vancouver Island waters.

Second of the outrigger racing machines is the six-metre, built to formula between 35 and 40 feet. It is exceeding fast, with a five-ton keel, and sails under mainsail, working jib, Genoa and spinnaker. A, B and C Classes are especially designed for miscellaneous craft that do not fall into a fixed class. Elaborate formulas take into account all specifications of hulls and put them into one of the three classes with a certain handicap.

"There are other restrictions on sail area, types of rigging, and other features of each class of hull," Mr. Coverdale said, "but they are highly technical and obscure to all except those with sailing experience. These descriptions should enable anyone to recognize what they see in waters around here."

Asphalt Men See Better Paving Due

After two years of investigation, research engineers at the Asphalt Institute, College Park, Maryland, believe they have made a discovery that will point the way to better and more durable asphalt pavements.

Arvin S. Wellborn, chief engineer for the Asphalt Institute, says research data calculated from several thousand tests indicate that the chief factor governing the stability characteristics of a paving mix is the kind and graduation of the sand fraction in the mixture.

"Asphalt technologists generally believe that the larger stone fractions in the paving mixture determine to a critical extent the stability or inherent strength of the paving mix," Mr. Wellborn told a two-day meeting of the Institute's board of directors at the Empress Hotel today.

PROVIDES MUSCLE
"It has always been thought that the interlocking action of these stone and rock fragments provided the 'muscle' for the pavement, with the sand fractions serving in a minor supporting role," he said.

After more than two years' investigation, Mr. Wellborn said, institute engineers are inclined to assign a "new and greater importance" to the so-called fine aggregate fractions.

"It would appear that we are hot on the track of a significant development in the history of asphalt paving."

"If these preliminary findings are supported by further testing, we can safely predict that consistently better asphalt pavements can be built in the future by contractors and engineers who show greater selectivity in the use of fine aggregates."

WOMAN SENT TO JAIL
VANCOUVER—A woman said to have obtained $2,000 from a city store by getting refunds on goods purchased in other people's names was sentenced Wednesday to nine months in jail.

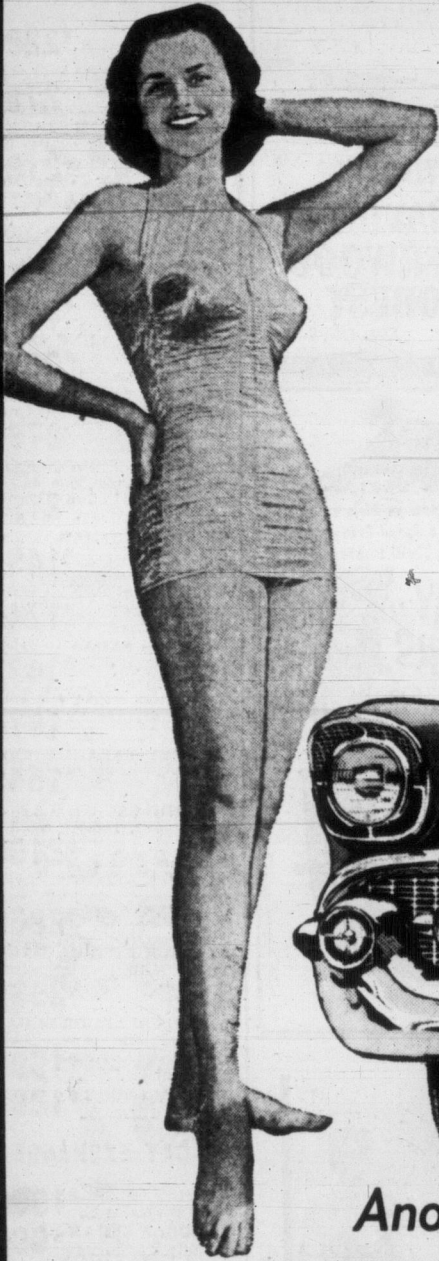

Lorraine Kibbons, 25, pleaded guilty to a charge of obtaining goods by false pretences from the downtown Hudson's Bay Company store.

Five Airlines Protest Mainland Airport Rent

From CP Dispatches

VANCOUVER—Five major airlines operating out of Vancouver Wednesday protested the rent they are to be charged for space in a new passenger terminal nearing completion at the city-owned international airport.

At a meeting with the city's airport board, airlines representatives said the proposed rate of $450 a square foot "is out of line with that charged at other airports."

Also Wednesday, the airport board announced an average 30 per cent increase in landing fees effective July 1, conforming, it said, with similar increases at other Canadian airports.

The airlines protesting space charges in the new terminal were Trans-Canada, Canadian Pacific, United, Qantas and Pacific Western. E. P. Wells of TCA, spokesman for the group, said the new rate represents a 50 per cent increase.

The high rate, he added, is for space he considers sub-standard.

The airport board agreed to take another look at the proposed rental charge, but said whatever the rate, it must be one that would enable the building to pay for itself within 20 years.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL
Vancouver—Kelvin Klingbell, 23, was committed Wednesday for trial in connection with the slaying of a grocery store proprietor here.

Defence counsel Jack Wismer reserved defence and Klingbell declined to make a statement.

Klingbell is accused of murdering Lee Yiek Yung, 63, May 18.

STRIKE VOTE ASKED
NEW WESTMINSTER — Nurses at the Royal Columbian Hospital here have asked for a government-supervised strike vote in efforts to secure an 8 per cent salary increase recommended by a conciliation board.

The Registered Nurses Association of B.C., which is representing the 200 nurses at the hospital, said Wednesday an emergency staff will be provided in the event of a strike. It said the management has turned down the board's recommendation.

The nurses are seeking a basic salary of $260 a month and four annual increments of 5 per cent.

STORE CLOSING FIGHT
KAMLOOPS—The question of Monday closing in Kamloops has divided the business area of the city into two camps—those for and those against.

City council received three delegations Wednesday afternoon opposing the proposal advanced in a petition signed by 58 merchants a week ago asking all-day closing on Monday.

The Kamloops and District Board of Trade executive discussed the question earlier this week. It is reported that most directors refrained from voting; four approved and five disapproved of Monday closing.

TEACHERS HOMES STONED
NEW WESTMINSTER — Homes of two high school principals were attacked by rock throwers Wednesday.

It was the second attack on one of the homes in 24 hours. Large picture windows in the homes of Stephen Moodie and R. W. (Bert) Adams were smashed between 1:10 and 1:20 a.m., police reported.

Mr. Moodie is vice-principal of Lester Pearson High School, and Mr. Adams, principal of Vincent Massey Junior High.

Both families reported hearing sounds such as might be made by gangs of boys, police said.

IN CRITICAL CONDITION
KAMLOOPS — Lawrence David Smythe of Merritt was reported in critical condition in hospital here after a car went out of control and rolled down an embankment Wednesday on the Merritt highway 24 miles south of here.

Police said the car was driven by H. Beckert of Merritt, who suffered only slight injuries.

HIGHLAND CATTLE ARRIVE
NEW WESTMINSTER — Forty bush-browed Highland cattle arrived here Wednesday after a 6,000-mile journey by ship and rail from Glasgow, Scotland.

The shaggy, Scots-bred, pedigree herd was imported by

TCA NEEDS COMPETITION, MP STATES

The "monopoly" of Trans-Canada Air Lines in Canada was scored Wednesday by newly-elected Progressive Conservative A. deB. McPhillips at a meeting of the Victoria Real Estate Board.

"Our view is that other airlines should be given an opportunity to go into the field," he said. "We are not in favor of maintaining a monopoly for TCA."

On another point, he said there was no reason why the federal government should not construct a ferry slip at Ogden Point which would eliminate dockage fees charged ships entering the Inner Harbor, as well as cutting time in berthing.

Mr. McPhillips said he would press for a fast transportation route from Vancouver Island to the Mainland.

Electricians Resume Strike Talks Today

VANCOUVER (CP)—Striking electricians were scheduled to reopen talks with the city today.

120,000 FAGS STOLEN
PENTICTON—Thieves stole 120,000 cigarettes—600 cartons—from the Kelly Douglas warehouse here Tuesday night. Police said they gained entry through a skylight and used a wrecking bar to batter down doors inside the building.

LIVE SLOWLY
Crocodiles are said to live for 100 years and tortoises for 200 years or more.

Since the 50 electrical workers walked off the job two weeks ago, 30 traffic lights and some 100 street lights have conked out. Fourteen police cars and two motorcycles have gone unused because of faulty radios.

The Electrical Workers' Union, Local 213, has been demanding a 20-per-cent wage increase. The strike followed refusal of a 9.2-per-cent increase offer by the city.

Accidents resulting from traffic-light failure have been few, with police attributing only one directly to it. Auxiliary police are being used to direct traffic during rush hours.

MONTE ROBERTS

MONTE—BETWEENTIMES—PROOF TO DESK

I have been asked to tell all I know about politeness. Fortunately, I do not know very much about politeness. The reason is, politeness is hard to come by these days. A case of genuine politeness is as rare as a day in spring, only more so.

I have just asked a young friend of mine what he thinks of people who are polite, and this young friend (after thinking it over) said he didn't know many people who are polite, but those he did know made themselves polite by not saying what they meant to say before they started to say it.

In other words, my young friend said, "most people who appear to be polite aren't genuinely polite, they just think the polite thing to do is to appear to be polite."

Which will give you some idea of why I do not know much about politeness.

However, I do know that a polite answer to a snarly question is more effective than a punch on the snout.

If someone asks you a snarly question and you punch him on the snout, chances are he will punch you right back on YOUR snout.

And THEN where are you, especially if the someone you punch on the snout punches YOUR snout harder than you punched HIS snout?

Politeness is basically artificial.

But so is eating with a knife and fork, crossing the street with the green light, and wearing trousers.

Politeness takes time and effort.

Not very many people have the time or will spare the effort to be polite.

But most people have the time, and are willing to spare the effort, to punch each other on the snout.

That is why the world is going around either punching itself on the snout or threatening to do so.

Which is all I know about politeness, except I wish there were more of it.

DR. DESMOND "CAP" KIDD
... Scout movement growing fast.

Scouts Answer To Delinquency

B.C. Commissioner 'Cap' Kidd Here on First Official Visit

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Judges and magistrates agree that the Boy Scout movement is a logical answer to juvenile delinquency.

"Three leading judges told me they had never had a boy scout before them," Dr. Desmond F. ("Cap") Kidd, scout commissioner for British Columbia-Yukon said on the occasion of his first official visit to Victoria today.

A breezy, good-humored man of 52, Dr. Kidd has devoted most of his life to mining and geology. But scouting now is his chief enthusiasm.

He talks lyrically of the growth of the movement, pointing out that the number of scouts in B.C. and the Yukon has increased from 26,000 in 1951 to 30,000 in the past six months. "The movement in B.C. is growing as fast as the population, and it is significant that some of our most capable businessmen are willing to take key positions in scouting."

During my 12 months as commissioner I have learned that you need never be afraid to ask anyone to do anything for scouting. Every parent knows what it can do for his boys."

Dr. Kidd accepted the unpaid office of provincial commissioner last year after he was committed to a six-months' world tour, which took him to the Olympic Games in Australia.

On his way back to Vancouver, he stopped off in England long enough to attend a scout training course at Gilwell Park and qualified for his wood badge—an unusual achievement for a man in the fifties.

"Of course, I have an advantage," smiled Dr. Kidd. "I have been working in the bush all my life and a man cannot do that without learning something about outdoor life."

Earlier, Mr. Kidd was alleged to have said the company's scheme for developing a section of the Campbell River waterfront into a new business area was "inadequate and not engineeringly sound."

The statement said that, "unknown to Mr. Kidd when he spoke at the meeting, the plans for the project had been examined by a duly qualified and registered engineer who had satisfied himself as to their adequacy and was prepared to back them to the full."

"This action was brought for the purpose of vindication and not for damages," Mr. Gregory continued. "It is now apparent that no vindication is needed and no useful purpose would be served by proceeding further with this action..."

Dr. Kidd says the increase in scouting in B.C. is due to the general growth in population plus a growing recognition of scout training as an answer to youth problems.

Wherever there is the slightest demand for a new scout troop anywhere in the province, a professional scout is dispatched to the area to lay the foundations for organizing.

"We are rapidly improving our facilities for organizing new troops in distant parts of the province."

Many Indian scouts belong to white troops and in some parts of B.C. there are all-Indian scout troops.

"In Kelowna," Dr. Kidd said, "we have a Buddhist troop made up of Japanese boys and they are as enthusiastic as any..."

"We always try to live up to the concept of our founder, Lord Baden-Powell, that boys should be admitted to scouting regardless of race, color or creed. And you would be surprised how little the language barrier matters when you have an international scout jamboree."

A native of London, England, Dr. Kidd first joined the scout movement in Kerrisdale, Vancouver, in 1914. He became an assistant scout master in New Westminster in 1922.

Since his appointment as provincial commissioner by Governor-General Vincent Massey, he has travelled all over B.C. and has devoted most of his leisure time to the movement.

His wife and 10-year-old daughter, Ruth Mary Kidd, are still in England where Ruth is acting as a correspondent for Canadian newspapers.

His sister, Dr. H. M. Kidd, is a practising research pathologist.

'MOUNTIE RED' CONSIDERED FOR CENTENNIAL YEAR FETE

Assistant-Commissioner C. W. Harvison, head of the RCMP in B.C., said today consideration will be given to a suggestion that at least one Mountie in every detachment wear the red-coated dress uniform during centennial year.

Request was made by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island meeting at Sooke Wednesday, who said Canada should try to conform to its tourist advertisements in the U.S.

"We want to be of any assistance," Commissioner Harvison said, "but it must be remembered that our primary job is the protection of the public."

Bank President Sees Restricted Markets for Canadian Product

As long as marketing policies of Canada and other countries remain unchanged "it is difficult to foresee any great expansion in the markets for Canadian wheat other than such as might occur through widespread crop failures elsewhere," Canadian Bank of Commerce president N. J. McKinnon, Toronto, said here today.

Mr. McKinnon, the youngest bank president in Canada at 46, said the problem of selling wheat is one of the most difficult Canada faces, as markets overseas remain restricted.

This is due to exchange controls and national agricultural policies, he said.

"Competition for such markets as exist has been virtually eliminated in many ways by the policy of the U.S. who... played the part of no more than a 'marginal' exporter for many years prior to the war."

Mr. McKinnon said he was not prepared to make a statement concerning any change in Canada's "light money" policy, instituted under the Liberal government, which some observers believe may be altered under the new Progressive Conservative administration.

On the employment picture, he said, he had heard demands for labor are equal to the expanding demand for workers.

But, "notably sawn lumber," he said, "are experiencing 'uncertainty' and this has resulted in a higher level of unemployment in this and associated industries."

He said there is strong evidence of slackening in demand for housing: the year-end figures for 1956 showed 3.8 per cent of new dwellings unoccupied, compared with 2.3 per cent the year previous.

Of the national scene economically, he said, "the rise in prices which occurred last year appears now to be levelling off."

Also a matter of concern, he said, is occasional falling-off of United Kingdom lumber orders, and current decline in new housing starts on this continent.

"Freight costs are, of course, a major consideration in determining the extent of the market for B.C. lumber, and this has accounted for a large part of the decline in shipments."

B.C. producers are up against price cuts made by Eastern producers in "their attempt to stimulate demand," he said.

Mr. McKinnon heads Canada's third largest bank, which has capital of $135 millions and assets of $2 billion, 450 million.

Hydro Commission Chief Sees U.S. Competition

Decision on the first stage of development of southern B.C. hydro-electric resources must be made "very soon," the top official of the B.C. Power Commission said here today.

H. L. Briggs, general manager of the government-owned commission, told a Rotary Club luncheon that studies of power sources now under consideration show B.C. will be at a competitive disadvantage with the Northwestern U.S.

The only large source of hydro power in this area which has any hope of developing and transmitting power at any cost approaching that of the Bonneville Power Administration price is the Fraser River, Mr. Briggs said.

However, the Fraser is ruled out by the federal government because dams would ruin the valuable salmon run, he said.

"As long as this stand is maintained, it eliminates from consideration for the time being, what is distinctly the lower cost power source of south and central British Columbia."

Other power sources under consideration are the Homathko-Chilko River system and Clearwater River, both capable of developing 1,000,000 horsepower, and the Columbia River, including Mica Creek, which has an estimated potential of 3,300,000 horsepower.

All these sites have the disadvantage of being a long way from the markets, however, requiring transmission lines which add to the overall cost of the power.

How can this comparative cost disadvantage with the U.S. be alleviated? Mr. Briggs gave as one of the ways:

"By governmental assistance on the more costly major hydro projects, such as capital contributions, long term low interest loans, or other financial plans with similar effect."

Power returned by the U.S. in exchange for downstream benefits would also help reduce our costs, Mr. Briggs said.

"The first selection of a major development in the whole development sequence must be made very soon," he said, "furthermore the proper sequence may be vitally affected by knowledge of or lack of knowledge of the availability of capital assistance and downstream benefits."

Mr. McKinnon said he was not prepared to make a statement concerning any change in Canada's "light money" policy, instituted under the Liberal government, which some observers believe may be altered under the new Progressive Conservative administration.

Funds for the Oak Bay summer parks recreation program will be raised by 150 children of the Katherine Costain School of Dancing who they present a revue at Oak Bay Junior High School tonight at 7.30 o'clock.

Thanks follow.

That's for Bill and Bob Smith, Bob Goy, Frank White, Jim McCormick, Brian Downing and Ricky Gilmore.

These chums, aged 8 to 12, conducted an auction of the other day, raised $4.10 by sale of soft drinks and old comic books, and whipped off a postal note to The Times, asking that the money be sent Queen Alexandra Sotarium which does so much good helping crippled children.

The auction was held in the garage of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Downing, 1454 Tauton. Balloons sailed; a gramophone screamed during transactions with the neighborhood small fry.

They asked the money be forwarded "with our best wishes."

About 50,000 B.C. Electric customers on southern Vancouver Island were without power from five to 25 minutes Wednesday from 4 p.m.

Trouble was in the Bonneville connection south of Belingham, Wash., a link in the power pool which operates for mutual protection between this area and the northwest United States, a company spokesman said.

Circuits were gradually restored when the difficulty was corrected.

Court Action Might Raise Parking Fines

A young Victoria lawyer's attempt to have the city Streets, Traffic and Regulation By-Law, 1951, declared ultra vires in respect to a parking charge against his client was remanded today for judgment next Thursday in city police court.

Effect of a judgment in favor of Mary Elizabeth Botterell, 533 Transit, would mean future charges would be laid under the new Motor Vehicles Act, which provides for a minimum penalty of $10.

Penalty under the Victoria by-law is $1.

The defendant, represented by Robert Hutchison, argues the parking prohibition in the by-law is rendered ultra vires of a section of the Motor Vehicle Act.

Mr. Hutchison said the statute covers parking on all streets in B.C. and he submitted it provides a complete code of standards for traffic regulation.

"The province, in passing this act, clearly shows it is occupying the field... and therefore it excludes concurrent legislation," which municipalities may pass.

The city has only power to enact additional, not similar legislation, he said.

City prosecutor Alan Bigelow submitted the law, if consistent (and he maintained the by-law is consistent) is valid until it is annulled or replaced.

The defendant is charged with parking over two hours in a designated zone.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: Kenneth G. Stewart, 1571 Hampshire, $25 for driving without a licence.

Paul Alexander Beck, 1217 St. Patrick, $15 for crossing a double solid centre line.

Maurice Kozak, 832 North Park, $35 for speeding over 30.

Demolay Order Makes Awards To City Members

Four men and five boys will be honored by the Order of Demolay at a ceremony Saturday at 7.30 p.m. in the OES Hall, Redfern Street.

The order's Legion of Honor will be presented to Donald T. Stillman, Alexander Miller and William G. Passmore, Victoria, and James Small, Courtenay, for their outstanding contribution to Demolay through guidance of junior members.

In the last 31 years, only 10 of these awards have been made in B.C. The candidates were selected at the supreme council of the order in Detroit last March.

Promoted to the degree of chevalier for their work as Demolay members will be Dave Walker, Walter Dakers, Gordon R. Grant, and Fred Ramsdale, of Victoria, and Robert W. Ennis, Courtenay.

Mr. Syme was obviously in a highly emotional state when he shot his friend."

Mr. Hamlett, the handwriting expert, said.

"If I saw his handwriting I would know the extent to which he is governed by his emotions. Through a study of my own writing I found I was too emotional and too prejudiced — not objective have been to feel sorry for myself."

"This science has helped me to understand myself better and to understand others. I only wish the educational authorities would recognize the value of handwriting analysis in determining children's abilities and the kind of studies they should follow."

Mr. Hamlett says criminal investigators have consulted him in cases of suspected forgery and in every case his experience of grapho analysis has enabled him to detect crime.

"Forgers always give themselves away," he declares. "They make what seems a perfect copy but their unconscious mind leads them astray. There is always some little tell-tale quirk in the forgery that the experienced grapho analyst can detect."

"Handwriting is the only certain record of personality. It is much more revealing than the human voice because the subject is unconscious of the traits his writing reveals."

Mr. Hamlett believes he can tell from two samples of handwriting whether or not a man and woman would be compatible in marriage. He claims that even a child's scribble reveals his personality trends.

He chatted over coffee in the Dominion Hotel cafe, and

Extra Car Fee Urged For Outside Drivers

Car owners from surrounding municipalities should pay more than Victorians when vehicle testing service is set up here, Ald. Hugh Ramsay said today.

"Out-of-town drivers who don't pay city property taxes but enjoy our streets and services, should pay for the privilege," he said.

"As it stands now, Victoria taxpayers, whether they drive cars or not, pay for street maintenance, police traffic supervision and a costly network of traffic installations."

He added that he thought income derived from a surcharge on out-of-town cars should be used

It's one of the minor tragedies of life—sure as you cherish your fingernails for weeks and get them all nice and long and glamorous-looking for a special party, comes the big day and you break one while you're typing or washing dishes.

But it can be easily remedied. You just make yourself a new nail with the aid of a repair kit I've found.

The kit contains a plastic solution and nail shapes made of metallic foil. You slip the foil under the broken nail tip, cover your own nail and the foil with several coats of plastic, let it dry thoroughly, and then remove the foil.

There you are with a new fingernail—it can be filed to match your others! Go ahead and polish them all, and no one will know the difference.

The plastic can also be used to cover rough nails and to strengthen them as they grow out. It's a good discouragement for nail-biters, too.

To remove, you just soak the nails in polish remover. Price of the kit is $1.25.

ENGLISH SWEETS

People coming home from a trip to England usually bring back tins of English candy. It seems too bad to fill up luggage with them when you can buy exactly the same brands right here in Victoria.

I found tins of a well-known English brand at 55c each and had a hard time choosing among treacle brittle, butterscotch and barley sugar.

The same store also has rock candy, the sticks that are sold at every English seaside town. This is from Blackpool and is 14c a stick.

I was also intrigued by little crates of candy "oranges" at 25c. And I found the most delicious bars of chocolate, made in Switzerland of coffee-flavored chocolate filled with coffee-flavored cream. A big bar is 48c.

If you'd like to know where I shopped, just ring me at 2-3131.

Came Rebekah Lodge, No. 45, garden party, Saturday afternoon, at home of Mrs. P. W. Smoother, 946 Runnymede Place. Stalls of home cooking, garden, novelties and teacup reading. Afternoon tea served. In event of unfavorable weather the party will be held in Odd Fellows' Hall, Douglas Street.

Morning Party Realizes $125

Proceeds of $125 were realized at a coffee and sherry party held by Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) Saturday at the home of Mrs. H. B. Weydert, 2371 Lansdowne Road.

Guests were welcomed by Mrs. McFarlane, president, and Mrs. Weydert. Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Mrs. J. S. Adam, Mrs. Jack Fawcett and Mrs. George Peakes poured coffee. Convent was Mrs. Leslie Macdonell, and Mrs. J. Murray was in charge of the floral arrangements.

Others assisting were Mrs. L. Beddington and Mrs. L. W. Johnson, refreshments; Mrs. D. Smith, Mrs. J. S. Grimmond, Mrs. H. R. White, Mrs. K. Chalmers, Miss H. Murray, servants; and Mrs. E. Warburton, coffee.

Do Long Gloves Stay on or Come Off?

I have had some long kid gloves tinted a lovely shade of pink to match an evening gown I am wearing to a wedding. Must I remove them when I go through the receiving line? I would prefer not to, as they lend the finishing touch to my costume.

Louise Davis Answers: Removing gloves or leaving them on is optional. Since yours are to complete an evening assemblage, leave them on if you prefer, at least part of the time. If a little later you would like to take them off, you can, especially if you would be more comfortable or if you find that you will have to handle canapés or other food. But if you remove them, do it all the way, rather than tuck the fingers inside at the wrists. The bulge isn't attractive.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

You Can Cure Small Health Defects by Daily Exercise

In looking through my files I found some letters from women who had been in my figure molding classes. These mentioned, with amazement, some of the by-products of daily exercise.

Most of the women had joined the classes in order to improve their figure and were surprised by other things which happened to them. One of my pupils wrote, "I am most pleased with my new figure and I am amazed at my improved health."

"Actually I have fairly good health but had a lot of small defects which kept me from feeling really well. For instance, I have corrected constipation which I had had for years. I have lost an ache in my left shoulder. I had a mild touch of arthritis. My joints no longer pop when I move. I have lost a feeling of stiffness in my neck. I have lost the chronic state of fatigue I lived in. I felt exhausted most of the time. Now I do my housework with the greatest of ease."

"Of course, on the cosmetic side I have lost my double chin and inches from top to toe."

I have seen these miracles happen so often that I believe in exercise enthusiastically. Those who are new to exercise are always pleasantly surprised when small disabilities disappear.

Institute Women in New Zealand

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (Reuters) — Women's institute work in Canada has done something for women which no education could have done, Mrs. Ada Shaw of Vancouver said here Wednesday.

She arrived at Auckland by air en route to Ceylon for the Conference of Associated Countrywomen of the World July 3-13.

Mrs. Shaw is one of 15 Canadian delegates to the conference who arrived to spend five days touring New Zealand before leaving for Australia.

Most of the women will stay on farms during their New Zealand visit.

Mrs. Shaw is staying with her brother, Mack Miller of Auckland, whom she had not seen for 33 years.

Bride's Gown Of Pink Lace

A military wedding in the Protestant Chapel, Camp Gordon Head, recently united Eileen Van Horne and Sgt. Floyd Hammond Lottridge, Queen's Own Rifles. White lilies decorated the chapel for the ceremony performed by Capt. H. J. Robbins, and Mrs. Ruth Jones was organist.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Edith Vesley, Hamilton, Ont., wore a street-length gown of pink lace over taffeta with scalloped neckline and three-quarter sleeves, and matching hat and shoes. Her corsage was red roses.

Her attendant, Mrs. Sylvia Reid, wore a blue and white dress with white accessories and yellow rose corsage. Best man was Sgt. Reid and ushers were Sgt. Waterfield and Sgt. Davey.

A reception was held in the Sergeant's Mess. Following a honeymoon in California and Mexico, the couple are living at 84 Cadillac Avenue prior to leaving for Germany. The bride traveled in a tan two-piece dress with deeper tan coat and chocolate brown accessories.

Summer Flowers Form Background For Ceremony

Baskets of tall blue and white delphinium were placed at the altar of Esquimalt United Church for the wedding of Muriel Gladys Pollock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Pollock, of Glen Lake, and Wayne Erik Dohlman, son of Erik Dohlman, Abbotsford, B.C., and Mrs. Mae Dohlman, Red Deer, Alta. Rev. D. R. Pilkey performed the ceremony, during which traditional organ music was played.

The fair-haired bride chose a ballerina-length gown of delicate white chantilly lace inset with net, over taffeta, sprinkled with sequins. The skirt was bouffant, and the strapless bodice was covered by a brief jacket with lily-point sleeves. A headpiece of seed pearls held her fingertip veil, and her colonial bouquet was of red rosebuds and white carnations. Her father gave her in marriage.

The bride's only attendant was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Margaret Pollock, of Vancouver, gowned in yellow net over taffeta with matching headpiece. She carried pink carnations. James Dohlman was best man for his brother, and ushers were Erwin Pollock, brother of the bride, and William Dohlman, brother of the groom.

James Bay Community Hall was the scene of the reception, at which Norman McLean proposed the bridal toast. Summer flowers and tall white candles flanked the three-tier wedding cake. The bride's mother wore off-white flowered nylon, while the groom's mother was in navy blue crepe, both with red carnation corsages.

After a honeymoon in Vancouver, the newlyweds will live at 410 Quebec Street. The bride traveled in a blue velvet sheath dress with white accessories and carnation corsage.

TO TAKE LEAD ROLES IN OPERA

Miss Merna Jenkin, well-known Victoria contralto, will sing leading roles in two operas being produced by the Banff School of Fine Arts this summer. She will appear as "Samtazza" in Cavalleria Rusticana, to be presented in Banff in late July, and as "Ciesca" in Gianni Schicchi by Puccini, which will be given in Edmonton, Calgary, Regina, and Red Deer as well as in Banff, in early August. Miss Jenkin leaves July 2 for Banff. (Photo by Ken.)

Double-Ring Ceremony In St. Mark's Church

Tall baskets of pink peonies and fern decorated St. Mark's Anglican Church for the double-ring ceremony at which Mary Janet McMillan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McMillan, 971 and white roses. Bridesmaid Miss Lodge Avenue, became the bride Rita George wore pink lace with of Patrick Lloyd Cummings, HMCS pink accessories and a bouquet Naden, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. of pale pink and white roses, Cummings, of Whalley, B.C. Rev. Ronald Kelaseen was best man and Canon R. Willis officiated. ushers were Robert Ramsay and Lawrence Arrowsmith.

Given in marriage by her father, the attractive bride chose a wedding gown styled on princess lines. Hall, where white tulle formed a with bodice of beaded lace and setting for the three-tier wedding skirt of flowered nylon net over cake. F. Morris, cousin of the satin. A tiara of orange blossoms bride, proposed the toast.

Garden Party Realizes $1,350

Spacious green lawns and huge shade trees formed a setting for gay stalls of articles for sale, in the grounds at Gorge Road Hospital, Wednesday afternoon. Occasion was the annual garden party of the hospital auxiliary. A sum of $1,350 was realized and will be used for comforts for the patients.

Sun deck of the central solarium of the hospital was arranged with baskets of colorful summer flowers and it was from this vantage point that Mrs. Frank Mackenzie-Ross, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, declared the party opened.

OFFICIALLY OPENED

Mrs. Ross was making her first official appearance in Victoria since returning with His Honor from a vacation trip abroad. She wore for the occasion a white woven lace sheath dress with a pink cape and striking delphinium blue bonnet-shaped model straw hat circled with tulle in the same blue tone.

Auxiliary president, Miss Verna Beek, received the guests and introduced Mrs. Ross to the gathering. On the sun deck with them were Miss Ruth MacLean, Mrs. R. Aitken, vice-president; Mrs. E. Hansen, convener of the garden party; Mrs. C. C. Warren, president of the board of directors of the hospital; and Mrs. Florence Muttie, executive secretary at the hospital.

Afternoon tea was served in a large basement room of the hospital, decorated for the party with colorful paper lanterns and inverted umbrella frames covered with flowers and greenery. Mrs. T. Potter was in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. A. Hamilton, Mrs. R. Vickers, Mrs. W. McGregor, Mrs. A. Douglas and Miss A. Collins. Decorations were arranged by Mrs. F. Campbell, who as tea hostess was assisted by Mrs. W. Stewart Smith, Mrs. W. Wallace and Mrs. A. Mawer. Servers were Mrs. M. Wylie, Mrs. L. E. Elves, Mrs. L. R. Elves, Mrs. M. MacClement, Miss Nona Rich, Mrs. D. R. McGAdams, Mrs. W. Hooson, Mrs. B. Prevost, Mrs. T. Grant, Mrs. J. Lock and Mrs. W. Dunnet. They were also helped by members of the FOE Auxiliary.

The S. J. Willis band, directed by Howard Denike, played during the afternoon. An added attraction was the performing dogs from Heatherbelle Kennels with Mrs. H. Mellish. Members of the United Commercial Travellers Auxiliary, sold candy at the party.

The Whatsoever Group of Douglas Street Baptist Church had the home-cooking stall. Hand lotion was sold by Mrs. W. A. Mais; second-hand books by Mrs. E. R. Owen; sewing, Mrs. G. Windwick and Mrs. A. Wildg; notepaper, Mrs. C. W. Morrish; plants, Mrs. H. H. Kolb, Mrs. K. Morris, and Mrs. W. H. Wilson; ice cream and soft drinks, Mrs. C. E. Coleman and Mrs. F. E. Watchler; toys, Mrs. W. Beutelspacher, Mrs. A. H. Banks and Mrs. E. Walker; superfluties, Mrs. E. Munroe and Mrs. M. Curtis.

PATIENT CONTRIBUTION

Articles made in occupational therapy classes at the hospital were sold by Miss Helen Egan, Mrs. W. A. Brethour and Miss Audrey Harness; garden lounge tickets, Mrs. W. Edwards, and doll raffle tickets, Mrs. George Holt and Mrs. Gilbert Holt.

Jewelry stall was in charge of Mrs. M. Haynes, and door tickets by Mrs. G. Hilliard and Mrs. G. Leeming. Decorations on the sun deck and in the Solarium were done by Mrs. S. W. Mackintosh, and the stalls, in club colors, were done by Mrs. M. Rain.

Unionist Clarifies Election Day Charge

(See earlier story on Page 8.)
Clarification of a charge made before the Victoria Labor Council that a local employer had cut the pay of 70 workers let off early to vote in the federal election was given today by union official Clifford Parker, Mr. Parker, business agent of the International Union of Operating Engineers, local 115, said the workers were members of three different unions. He declined to name the company. For the past three months the men have been paid for working nine hours a day on a project, he said.

On election day the employer let the workers off early to allow the three hours' voting time stipulated in the Canada Elections Act, but paid them for only eight hours.

This constituted a reduction in pay for the men, which is specifically outlawed by the Elections Act, Mr. Parker claimed.

The union will have its lawyer approach the firm, he said, and the employer had agreed to pay the additional money if it could be proved that he had done wrong.

Four Victorians left today to attend the national convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada to be held in Ottawa from June 9 to July 3.

The delegation is composed of Victor Fugle, retiring president of the Victoria Jaycees; Ira Hill, president-elect; Vic Smith, and Stickney Harris.

NEWS BRIEFS

The Victoria Lions Auxiliary will hold a luncheon meeting in the private dining room at T. Eaton Company store on Friday at noon.
Guest speaker will be Miss Marilyn Cann.

Some 20,000 tax bills are being mailed by Saanich this week to home and property owners.
Gordon Hayward, municipal clerk, said the tax increase this year on the average home and property in Saanich is between $10 and $15.

The hike in the mill rate this year, he added, will not "submerge" the $28 tax rebate.

Saanich resident Sam Woodward, 71 Battleford, was given a suspended sentence in Saanich police court today and placed on $300 bond to be of good behavior for six months.

He was charged with assault causing bodily harm to his wife, whom he struck over the head with a teacup, gashing her scalp, necessitating four stitches.

"Your probation report is such and about three days in hospital, that I might be warranted, in view of your age and other aspects of your conduct, in putting you on suspended sentence with certain terms," Magistrate H. C. Hall told Woodward.

He was warned he must not interfere with his wife in future.

I. W. (Bud) Bell, well-known Prince George sportsman and businessman, has purchased the Yates Street store of Murdoch-Girard Ltd.

Branch establishments of the tailoring firm were not affected by the sale, and the present staff of the Victoria Street store will be retained when the change-over is completed in the fall.

Floods Ravaged China Communists Disclose

TOKYO (AP)—The worst floods in recent history ravaged seven provinces on the China mainland last year, Communist China disclosed for the first time today.

Feiping carried reports of the floods when they occurred last year but maintained they were kept under control. A statement broadcast by radio Peiping admitted today the floods were far more serious than its previous reports indicated.

A home ministry spokesman said the floods were worse than those which devastated widespread areas in 1954 and 1951.

Stricken were Kiangsu, Anhwei, Honan, Hopei, Chekiang, Heilungkiang and Kirin. Sections of two other provinces, Hunan and Kwangsi suffered severe droughts. The spokesman's statement, broadcast by radio Peiping, said the national government disbursed nearly $190 million to refugees and extended another $160 million in loans to the flooded provinces. Food and clothing also were distributed, the radio said.

Discovery Pass Swim Planned By Victoria Girl

CAMPBELL RIVER — Anita Long, 18-year-old Victoria long-distance swimmer, has accepted an invitation of Campbell River Rotary Club to swim across Discovery Passage from April Point, on Quadra Island, to Campbell River. She will attempt the three-mile swim tomorrow.

Her manager, Bud Phillips, said she will attempt to swim Juan de Fuca Strait from Race Rocks to Port Angeles about three days after the Campbell River swim.

Two Seamen Die In Explosion

On Big Carrier

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt limped into port today, victim of its second accident at sea in two months.

On board were two dead and five injured seamen. They were sprayed by steam Wednesday when a pump exploded deep inside the 45,000-ton warship.

Twenty-nine others were stricken with heat prostration or exhaustion, many of them in efforts to rescue trapped comrades.

The explosion blew pieces of the pump through two bulkheads as well as the steam lines.

Capt. T. W. Hopkins said the ship was on a training exercise when the accident occurred about 100 miles off the coast. That was about 50 miles from the spot where the Roosevelt threw a propeller blade on May 15.

All-Star Plans Set

MONTREAL (CP)—The third annual all-star game between teams representing the Big Four and the Western Interprovincial Football Union will be played in Montreal Dec. 7. It was announced here Wednesday.

Officials of the game, met Wednesday in Toronto and agreed on the date and place for the game. Proceeds go to charity.

CALYPSO SONGS HERALD START OF SECOND TEST

LONDON (Reuters)—England's Negro community thumped oil drums and strummed guitars in the stately confines of Lord's cricket grounds today at the opening of an England vs. West Indies cricket match.

The game is the second of a five-match test series the visitors are playing here. The first ended in a draw at Edgbaston earlier this month.

West Indies tours here invariably give cricket a flavor unusual to the Englishman's traditional concept of the national sport.

Taylor Improves After Operation

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fred W. (Cyclone) Taylor, of hockey fame, has been discharged from hospital following his second major operation in two months.

The 73-year-old father of John Taylor, Progressive Conservative MP-elect for Vancouver-Burrard, is resting at home. His family says he is "feeling great."

U.S.-Russian Meet Dropped By AAU

NEW YORK (AP)—The Amateur Athletic Union has dropped plans for a proposed series of track meets between the United States and Russia. AAU chief Dan Ferris said the reason the meets would not be held was twofold:

1. The Russians refused to go along with the U.S. proposal that each country defray in full the expenses of the visiting team.

2. The refusal of the Russians to enter the U.S. under immigration laws prevailing at the time of entry.

The first of the home-and-home series was to have taken place in Moscow July 12-14 with the U.S. sending a 70-man team.

Pennant Scramble Lifts Attendance

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Early season attendance at minor league baseball games is ahead of the 1956 figure. George M. Trautman said today. The president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues said a survey of 26 of the 28 loops under his jurisdiction showed 14 had boosted attendance and 12 had declined for the period through May 31.

Leslie O'Connor, prexy of the Pacific Coast League, said an exciting pennant scramble had resulted in attendance jumping from 508,363 to 568,474.

BOY, SIX, MISSING

HANEY — A search by 75 men and an RCMP tracking dog failed Wednesday night to turn up any clue to the whereabouts of a six-year-old boy who has been missing from his Haney home since Tuesday.

A search by police, Boy Scouts and volunteers was scheduled to resume at dawn.

John Bruneau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Bruneau of Haney was last seen near the Canadian Legion building here Wednesday afternoon, nearly 24 hours after he was missed.

LOGGER KILLED

PRINCERUPERT—Lino Eattis, 28, an employee of the Alaska Pine Co.'s camp on Moresby Island, was killed there by a falling log, RCMP said Wednesday night.

Sharon Moves Into Finals Of Two Events

First finalist in the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club's annual tennis tournament was decided on Wednesday as defending women's singles champion Sharon Wittaker proved too much for junior Diana Lawrence. Miss Wittaker will meet the winner of tonight's semifinal between Miss M. Petersen and Miss P. Ferguson.

Miss Wittaker also teamed with Miss T. Elmsley to best the women's doubles combination of Miss Wasson and Miss Gardner to enter the finals in that division.

In men's action, defending champion Ron Mitchell made the semifinals with a win over Keith Taylor.

Tonight's draw follows:
8:30—Men's singles semi-final, T. Elmsley vs. G. Harley; Flight semi-final, W. Brown-Cave vs. J. Wells.
8:00—Men's doubles semi-final, D. McCormick and J. Coar vs. R. Mitchell and J. Bull.
6:30—Ladies' singles semi-final, M. Petersen vs. P. Ferguson.
7:00—Men's doubles, T. Smythe and C. Brand vs. K. Taylor and W. Dunbar.

Butlers Bow At Long Last

Butler Brothers, the terrors of the Victoria Minor Lacrosse Association's bantam division, were finally beaten, 12-8, Wednesday after a string of seven wins, but it took an all-star team to do it.

With the star players from every other team in the league ranged against them in a preliminary game at Memorial Arena, Butlers were forced to leave their main scoring chores to Bruce Mitchell. He netted four.

Bill Munro, usual top-scorer for the Saanich club, was held to two goals. Gary Zelkie and John Hanson each sniped one for the losers.

For the all-stars, John Paul fired three and Glen Vickers and Mike Gallant each scored twice. Pat Green, Bjorn Stavrum, Brian Spaven, Phil Wade and Allistair McNair got one apiece.

Grocers Edge Wests; Move Near Top Berth

George Rowbottom pitched MacNutt's Grocery to within a single game of the Juvenile Boys' Softball League lead Tuesday night, spinning a 4-2 win over Victoria West at Victoria West Junior High School.

Bishop Judge broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth inning when he singled in the winning run. Dick Gibson drove in an insurance run in the seventh.

No-Hitter Not Enough

TORONTO (CP)—Norm Shanahan Wednesday night suffered the baseball pitcher's supreme frustration. He tossed a no-hitter and lost.

Pape Midgets beat Shanahan's Moss Park club 1-0 when they took advantage of an infield error to score. Pape's Bob McDonald allowed only two hits.

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football Union today announced the signing of Jim Matheny, six-foot-one, 225-pound centre and linebacker from UCLA. He is Argos' 23rd new import.

Pads Pick on Leaders To Move to Penthouse

By THE UNITED PRESS

The San Diego Padres today were the newest tenants in the Pacific Coast League penthouse division, but they had to kick the landlord in the teeth to get there.

The Pads ousted Seattle as fourth-place occupant when Bob DiPietro came back home to haunt San Francisco Seals. The Seals had cast DiPietro off earlier in the season—but apparently they didn't cast him far enough.

DiPietro's ninth-inning single gave the Padres an 8-7 win over San Francisco that was good enough to cut the Seals' PCL lead to a game and a half after Vancouver dumped Seattle 6-4. Los Angeles battered Sacramento 10-0 and Portland beat Hollywood 9-5 in other action.

HOMERS HELP

Dave Pope hit a two-run homer for San Diego and Marty Keough hit one with nobody aboard for the Seals. But it was DiPietro's single that gave the Pads their second straight win.

George Bamberger won his eighth of the year for Vancouver by scattering nine Seattle hits. A four-run uprising by Mounties pulled them ahead to stay in spite of two home runs off the bat of Seattle's Joe Taylor. Len Green cracked a two-run homer for the Mounties in the first inning.

Bert Hamric duplicated Taylor's feat of two homers in a game—but his came in a winning cause. Wally Lammers also homered for Los Angeles.

Hollywood and Portland played a normal-sized game after two extra-inning affairs. Beavers scored five times in the first off George Witt and kept ahead the rest of the way. John Carmichael took the win.

Brother Team In Tag Match

An Australian tag-team match, a best-of-three falls event with a one-hour time limit, will be the featured event on promoter Mike Bulat's "Ladies' Night" pro wrestling card at the Arena this evening.

Ladies, accompanied by an escort, will be admitted free to the weekly program.

The main event pits the Donnan brothers—Red and Doug—against Bob Cummings and Nick Kozak. It will be the first appearance for the brothers in Victoria.

Three other bouts will round out the card. George Gordienko, stocky Winnipeg product, will meet Jack Thunderbird while Doug Donnan runs into Kozak. In the third, Red Donnan meets Cummings.

Opening bout will be 8:30 p.m.

Style Portrayal Judged Betrayal

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Golfers Ben Hogan and Gary Player today awarded $5,000 damages to a New York publishing company which portrayed his technique in a book, Golf With the Masters, brought out two years ago.

Judge Peter F. Hagan ruled that A. S. Barnes and Company had "misappropriated" Hogan's property rights "in the commercial value of his name and photograph."

The judge decided the book created "unfair competition" for Hogan's own book Power Golf.

St. Andrew's Surprises As Second Half Starts

VANCOUVER (CP)—St. Andrew's, which wound up last in the first half of the Coast Summer Soccer League schedule, opened the second half Wednesday night by defeating North Shore 2-1 at Calister Park.

Reg Chapman scored St. Andrew's first goal and Dave Guthrie made it 2-0 at 13 minutes of the second half.

Bruce Ashdown scored North Shore's only goal.

AMBULANCE ON THE SPOT FOR ACCIDENT

DUNCAN (CP)—When Herman Mayea began to fall from a ladder while cleaning the second-story windows of the Troubadour Hotel Wednesday, an ambulance already was getting ready to go to his assistance.

It happened that taxi driver Ken Mawle was cruising the area when he saw Mayea swaying away from the wall 21 feet above the ground. Mawle picked up his radio phone and called the ambulance.

Mayea hit the pavement and suffered broken bones in both feet. He was taken to hospital.

Mayea said later his extension ladder slipped.

Power Board Expands Fast

Commission Building at Rate of $1 Million a Week, Rotarians Told

The B.C. Power Commission is currently expanding at the rate of $1,000,000 a week, the commission's general manager, Lee Briggs, told the Victoria Rotary Club today.

Speaking to the noon meeting of the service club on the public utility's growth and function, Mr. Briggs said that gross assets at March 31 this year were just over $152,000,000, nearly $50,000,000 up over the 1956 figure.

Yet this rate of expansion was described by the commission's top management officers as "barely keeping us ahead of the growth of the electrical loads which it is our obligation and privilege to supply."

Answer Questions

In a talk which included a summary of the power supply situation in the province as a whole, Mr. Briggs posed questions commonly asked of a public utility, and gave the answers.

Why does the commission continue to expand so fast in spite of today's high prices and scarce money?

"We are obliged to continue our expansion for the known electrical loads that are coming on our lines. With little exception, we believe these loads which our customers decide to connect must be carried, otherwise we are not fulfilling our obligation to the areas we serve."

How can the public be sure that commission engineering and construction are to a sufficiently high standard to justify the millions being invested?

"A smart team of engineers has been and is being developed, some of them well and favorably known across the whole of Canada before they came with us. The services of some of Canada's ablest consulting firms are retained."

How can the public be sure that the Commission is administering it effectively and economically?

"In the last two years administrative staff and management have been making almost continuous changes and improvements, by reason of the rate of growth. Top firms in the management consultant field have examined and recommended changes in the methods of operation and control."

The Commission's general manager stressed two points in the attitude of government which have had a marked effect on the ability of the Commission to perform its function effectively.

"In the first place, from where I sit I have not been able to observe any tendency whatsoever from the govern-

You Won't Believe It Unless You See It!

And at EATON'S Friday and Saturday You Can See It—the NEW

See it demonstrated Friday and Saturday—Sample the delicious results of this super-fast cooking!

Ever seen a potato baked in four minutes? An egg cooked in 20 seconds? The latest marvel of science, the Leonard Electronic range, does this and more too. It's not just the fastest thing you've ever seen—it's the most convenient, too. No more hard-to-clean pans—only the food is heated, not the pan or the oven walls, so there's no baked-on grease to cope with. No more pot-watching—no more temperature troubles—just set the fully automatic timer and forget it. When you combine frozen foods with the Leonard Electronic range you can have a full meal in five minutes—a true boon to the busy working wife.

Demonstrations at 10.30 a.m., 12 noon, 2.00 p.m. and 3.30 p.m. Main Floor, House Furnishings Building

Little Change Seen In Hydro Policies

By JOHN E. BIRD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The Progressive Conservatives are not expected to take any different basic position than the Liberals in Canada-United States negotiations on development of water power resources of rivers crossing the international boundary.

However, the government of Prime Minister-designate John Diefenbaker may attempt to speed negotiations on the thorny problem and may be more outspoken about Canadian rights.

During the last session of Parliament, Howard Green, Conservative power spokesman and potential cabinet minister in the Diefenbaker government, complained about the length of preliminary negotiations.

Canada and the U.S. announced May 23, 1956, that the two countries planned to discuss the international river problem. However, it was not until March 17, 1957, that the first agenda-setting meeting was held in Ottawa. This was followed by a Washington conference May 20-21.

Mr. Green said that if negotiations proceeded over an unusually long period a Canada-U.S. decision on international rivers might be delayed for months or even years.

Latest reports indicate the complex negotiations could extend over another year. If the reports are correct, the Conservatives may attempt to bring them to an earlier conclusion.

The negotiations aim at agreement between the two countries on the best way to develop the hydro-electric resources of international rivers.

The main problem revolves around what are known as down-stream benefits, gains to a down-stream state from the power potential it derives by water regulation or storage in an upstream state. Flood control on both sides of the border also enters into the complex picture.

Prime Minister St. Laurent's Liberal government took the position that Canada should receive compensation in the form of electric power if Canadian water resources are used for hydro production in the U.S.

This applies particularly to the Columbia, which rises in B.C., crosses the boundary near Trail, B.C., and flows through

SWITCH GOOD FOR CANADA —N.Y. TIMES

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times says the change of government in Canada "is a major event in the current history of the Western Hemisphere."

In an editorial, the paper says the difference between the old and the new regime likely will be the same order of difference as occurred in Britain when she switched from a Socialist to a Tory government in 1951.

"It is doubtless good for Canada, and therefore for all of us," the paper adds, "to have a change of government after 22 years. Meanwhile, we can take comfort in the fact that Canadians have not changed and that the Liberals in opposition can be expected to show as much statesmanship as they did in office."

Allies Move to Meet Threat From Red Build-Up in Korea

WASHINGTON (AP)—South Korean Ambassador You Chan Yang said today he understands the 16 allied powers have agreed on a program for modernizing weapons in South Korea.

Yang said in an interview that the United Nations command is expected to notify the Communists of the Western alliance's intentions at a meeting called in Panmunjom Friday.

"I believe the reason for the meeting is to change the armistice agreement in order to let the United Nations command build up to the strength of Communist forces in North Korea," the ambassador said.

"Certainly that should be done," he added. "We should not repeat the 1950 tragedy which allowed the Communists to build up the nth degree while we were sitting there like clay pigeons."

He said the Communist build-up in North Korea is "not a fantastic dream."

"Under these circumstances I am sure the right decision has been made by the allied powers," Yang added. "I congratulate those people who see danger ahead. If we weaken ourselves we are inviting trouble."

SEOUL (AP)—Officials of the UN command here declined to say what they would discuss at Friday's meeting with the Communists but said their statements would be made public after the meeting.

The Korean armistice provided that the armies in North and South Korea could only replace existing equipment and could not bring in new types of equipment or additional arms.

American and South Korean military officials have long accused the Reds of beginning an illegal military buildup in North Korea before the ink was dry on the armistice agreement.

Even as the armistice went into force, barring Allied fighters from the skies north of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea, Allied radar screens picked up scores of Red fighters from Manchuria dropping onto make-shift strips in North Korea.

Korean military leaders argued for months that the Communists were building up for an attack and would strike southward whenever they felt confident of success.

OBSELETE UN WEAPONS

Allied leaders say the UN command has observed the ban on new weapons to the letter. As a result, they say, Allied weapons have become obsolete, making it impossible for out-gunned UN and South Korean troops to defend themselves adequately in the event of renewed Communist aggression.

U.S. defence secretary Charles Wilson told reporters in May that the U.S. was considering equipping its divisions in South Korea with weapons that could be equipped with atomic warheads in the event of a new Communist attack. Wilson said he hoped for a "prompt decision."

APPOINTMENT of Carl E. Brannen, 45, of Victoria as executive assistant to a committee on civic efficiency has been announced by the Toronto Board of Control. The committee was recently set up to implement efficiency recommendations made by management consultants J. D. Woods and Gordon. Salary range of the new post is $8,000 to $11,000 annually. Mr. Brannen was assistant city comptroller for Victoria until October, 1955, when he entered the insurance business. During the Second World War he was an RCAF wing commander in pay section.

Up-Island Points Lose Air Service As Traffic Poor

VANCOUVER (CP)—Pacific Western Airlines officials said today they have suspended passenger flights to several up-coast and Vancouver Island centres indefinitely because of lack of traffic.

Cancelled are Wednesday flights between Prince Rupert and Ketchikan, Alaska, daily flights between Vancouver, Gun Lake, Ganges and Port Alberni, and tri-weekly service between Vancouver and Shalalth.

Rain Helps Fight Against N.S. Fire

WINDSOR, N.S. (CP)—Firemen and volunteers held Nova Scotia's biggest forest fire under control today. They were helped by the moisture from Wednesday's half-inch rainfall, the first this month that was more than a shower.

About 10,000 acres of spruce and fir forest have been burned over since the fire started 11 days ago. Six camps and a saw-mill have been destroyed.

52,000 FLEE FLOOD WATERS IN ITALY

ROVIGO, Italy (Reuters)—The rain-swollen River Po burst its dikes today and forced 52,000 inhabitants of two delta islands to flee for their lives.

First it swirled over Ariano Island south of Venice, driving out the island's 32,000 people. Almost the entire island was reported flooded.

As rescue workers struggled to erect a wall to save part of the island from being submerged, the waters turned on Porto Tolle Island and its 20,000 population.

Rescue workers switched to the second island to buttress its river walls with sandbags. As pressure increased on the walls, an emergency order for immediate evacuation of Porto Tolle was issued.

A Day at Sea

I SHALL never be a real newspaperwoman because half the time when my mind should be grappling with facts and figures, it's wandering off on daydreams of its own.

Take Monday, for instance, when, with better-qualified members of the press, I went gadding for a cruise aboard the destroyer-escort which will be commissioned as HMCS Fraser on June 28.

Because we were given Press Kits with official information I know that her overall length is 366 feet, her beam is 42 feet, and her displacement is 2,800 tons. I know that her speed is over 25 knots, that her peacetime complement is 12 officers and 198 men, that her guns are two twin 3.1-inch 50-calibre anti-aircraft, that her anti-submarine weapons are two triple mortar mountings.

Ruth

I listened carefully to what we were told about the electronic apparatus which locates and tracks the submarines and fires the mortar at the correct moment. But I couldn't begin to understand it, and, if you ask me, a lot of the men didn't understand it either!

With a housewife's eye, I noted the absence of hammocks, and the arrangement of bunks with ribbon springs and foam mattresses. I took in, with envy, the electrically-equipped galley, the dishwashing machine, the laundry, the lighting arrangement of the main dining hall.

I saw the sick bay with its four berths, bathroom, and an operating table with the latest type of lights.

YOUR HEALTH

Are X-Rays Dangerous

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Of late, there have appeared in the public prints so many alarmist articles on x-rays that many persons have become worried. Now they fear even to have their teeth x-rayed or to get an occasional x-ray examination made of their chest or their stomach or bowel. I have read a number of the articles in which able scientists have discussed this subject, and I am not alarmed. I will not worry about getting x-rayed every year during my annual check-up.

Dr. Alvarez

I know intimately a number of physicians in x-ray work who, for 30 years or more, have examined many patients a day back of the fluorescent screen in the dark room, and hence have received enormously more radiation than any patient will ever get, unless he has strenuous treatment for cancer or some other serious disease. And these friends of mine do not appear to have suffered in any way. In their 60s and 70s they are healthy. I think this is an unsound argument.

As my son, Professor Luis W. Alvarez pointed out last year in a long article in "Research Reviews," standards of safety have been set up, and all capable men are now on watch to avoid injuring anyone. My good friend, Dr. Dwight H. Murray, president of the American Medical Association, has just written an article in which he says he feels that in the hands of experts the several types of radiation are safe enough. There is no need for getting excited.

ELECTROSHOCK TREATMENTS

A woman writes angrily to say that I had no right to mention electroshock treatments for helping women in a bad depression, such as can come with the menopause. She says that she had too many electroshocks; she kept getting them long after they failed to do her any good, and they have now disturbed her memory a bit. She feels that she should now be prohibited by law. I am sorry, but the lady is wrong. She ought to see some of the many depressed persons who are quickly brought out of a melancholia with a few electroshocks. It is one of the miracles of present-day medicine.

What we humans need most in this world

I listened to a mention of rubber rafts which inflate automatically on release into the sea.

And then my mind slipped off to Sir Francis Drake and the Armada. From somewhere, I remember "At Flores, in the Azores, Sir Richard Grenville lay." I tried hard to remember what Nelson did at the Battle of St. Vincent, not to mention Aboukir Bay and Trafalgar.

I thought of Jules Verne and the mysterious captain of the Nautilus.

I thought of how Canada's own navy was only started in 1910. Less than half a century ago.

I began to wonder what some of the famous naval figures of the past would have thought of this ship of 1957.

I began to wonder what the people of the distant future would think of the queer old-fashioned ship that we look upon as a marvel of modern science.

I tried to think of the many people whose labors and research, and even suffering or death had gone into the planning and the making of this ship.

Every ship that's launched, I thought, is built upon the past. It's just a stage in the never-ending flow of history. And, when you really break it down, history is just the record of actual human beings.

Which is probably a crazy reaction to all the automatic controls and to the marvels made possible by modern science.

But when we stand in silent worship before these scientific marvels, I think we might as well remember that originally they sprang from the mind of Man.

Soak Roots of Raspberries

Raspberry canes which are now forming their fruits will benefit from a deep and thorough soaking at their roots, followed by a mulch of rotted manure or good compost.

It also pays to keep the soil well moistened around bramble fruits, and give them an extra soaking as their fruit forms.

Extra early strawberries can be yours next year if suitable runners are selected now, from young plants are pegged into pots, and moved larger pots, or another bed, in August.

Use three-inch pots filled with a good fibrous loam and sand mixture, made very firm. Sink the pots into the present strawberry bed, between the rows, and peg or anchor a runner on top of each pot.

NOT OUR FAULT

All Weather Grief In U.S. Blamed On Us

By JOSEPH MACSWEN

Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (CP) — This is about women and weather—pick better subjects if you can.

It also has a bit about international relations. It tells how a heat wave cooled off a Canadian girl, boiling because of Yankee comments on Canuck weather.

The girl, Aileen—a housewife—you can find her at my address—came to New York to live in January, when icy blasts sent frozen citizens scurrying along the city's famed canyons.

Cause Was 'Obvious'

Everybody talked about the cold weather, and everybody figured the cause was obvious.

"Cold air from Canada," was the phrase intoned over and over to explain the New York misery.

A salesgirl in suburban Jamaica didn't help. Meaning to be friendly she asked Aileen, a Nova Scotian:

"What's it like in Nova Scotia? I mean, you have night for six months and day for six months, don't you? Oh, pardon me . . . I was thinking of Newfoundland."

Frosty Interlude

There was a female, frosty interlude while someone carefully explained that the Atlantic provinces, while not strangers to snow, are some distance from the Arctic.

Such incidents brought tight-lipped feminine comments like "Good heavens, what sort of schoolbooks do they study?"

Conciliatory male mutterings along the line of "Now, now, when in Rome . . ." went unheeded.

A restaurant meal was interrupted when the good woman suddenly assumed a fixed stare, slammed down her cutlery and demanded:

Did you hear that? At the next table they're blaming Florida cold snap on Canada, the idiots."

Canadian-American relations—in capsule form—became as chilly as Aklavik.

Now They Want It

But all this has changed. A sizzling heat wave did what John Foster Dulles wouldn't have been able to do.

Sweetening New Yorkers now hear television weather experts hold out hope of "cold air from Canada" to relieve the situation.

"They're glad, G-L-A-D, to be getting our weather now," is the delighted—and perhaps a little vindictive—comment out at our place.

Former Wife Of Oil Magnate Wins Alimony

VANCOUVER (CP)—Helen McMahon, 49, who divorced oil magnate George Levi McMahon of Calgary 12 years ago, was awarded $600-a-month alimony Wednesday by the British Columbia Supreme Court.

In applying for permission to sue, Mrs. McMahon last year told Mr. Justice Wood of the B.C. Supreme Court that she omitted application for alimony at the time of the divorce because her husband then was "unemployed and in debt."

In her application to Mr. Justice Elyne, Mrs. McMahon said she now is in poor health and unable to take a full-time job.

D. McK. Brown, counsel for Mr. McMahon, said the new hearing lacked jurisdiction and retired from the proceedings.

Mr. McMahon, president of Pacific Petroleum Ltd., remarried in 1946.

Liquor Outlets Plenty, Says A-G

Sale of beer and wine in B.C. grocery stores still is a long way off, Attorney-General Robert Bonner indicated Wednesday.

"There is no change in our thinking that we have sufficient liquor outlets," Mr. Bonner said. He was commenting on the results of a survey taken by the Retail Merchants' Association which showed that Vancouver grocers are in favor of selling beer and wine.

SYNOPSIS—Cloudy cover is general in most regions of British Columbia this morning but shower activity has occurred only in the central areas of the province. A weak ridge of high pressure now building over the coast gives promise of gradual improvement in the weather picture. A gradual decrease in cloudiness and slight increase in afternoon temperatures are to be expected in the next 24 to 48 hours.

MONTE ROBERTS

I have been asked to tell all I know about politeness. Fortunately, I do not know very much about politeness. The reason is, politeness is hard to come by these days. A case of genuine politeness is as rare as a day in spring, only more so.

I have just asked a young friend of mine what he thinks of people who are polite, and this young friend (after thinking it over) said he didn't know many people who are polite, but those he did know made themselves polite by not saying what they meant to say before they started to say it.

In other words, my young friend said, most people who appear to be polite aren't genuinely polite—they just think the polite thing to do is to appear to be polite.

Which will give you some idea of why I do not know much about politeness.

However, I do know that a polite answer to a snarly question is more effective than a punch on the snout.

If someone asks you a snarly question and you punch him on the snout, chances are he will punch you right back on YOUR snout.

And THEN where are you, especially if the someone you punch on the snout punches YOUR snout harder than you punched HIS snout?

Politeness is basically artificial. But so is eating with a knife and fork, crossing the street with the green light, and wearing trousers.

Politeness takes time and effort. Not very many people have the time or will spare the effort to be polite.

But most people have the time, and are willing to spare the effort, to punch each other on the snout.

That is why the world is going around either punching itself on the snout or threatening to do so.

Which is all I know about politeness, except I wish there were more of it.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Cmdr. P. F. Fairfull, superintendent of the Esquimalt graving dock, was named Vancouver Island representative to the Engineering Institute of Canada at the general and professional meeting recently ended in Banff, Alta.

Peter Butler, 4146 Torquay, has received his master-of-law degree from Harvard University.

He is articulated here to Crease and Co. Mr. Butler is the son of Mrs. L. M. Crookston.

Esquimalt Lions Club holds its installation of officers in the Monterey restaurant at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday, June 26, while Langford Lions hold their installation the same date and time in the Chez Marcel.

Meeting of the Sara Spencer Foundation will be held in the board room of Spencerhouse, 1551 Cook, at 3:45 p.m. Monday.

Funds for the Oak Bay summer parks recreation program will be raised by 150 children of the Katherine Costain School of Dancing as they present a revue at Oak Bay Junior High School tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Thanks fellows. That's for Bill and Bob Smith, Bob Goy, Frank White, Jim McCormick, Brian Downing and Ricky Gilmore.

These chums, aged 8 to 12, conducted an auction the other day, raised $410 by sale of soft drinks and old comic books, and whipped off a postal note to The Times, asking that the money be sent Queen Alexandra Solarium which does so much good helping crippled children.

The auction was held in the garage of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Downing, 1454 Tauton. Balloons sailed; a gramophone screamed during transactions with the neighborhood small fry.

They asked the money be forwarded "with our best wishes."

About 50,000 B.C. Electric customers on southern Vancouver Island were without power from five to 25 minutes Wednesday from 4 p.m.

Trouble was in the Bonneville connection south of Belingham, Wash., a link in the power pool which operates for mutual protection between this area and the northwest United States, a company spokesman said.

Circuits were gradually restored when the difficulty was corrected.

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Fortune and James Bay return from exercises July 5. Ontario, Cayuga, Athabaskan, Skeena, on training cruise.

Sussexvale, Ste. Therese, New Glasgow on cruise.

DR. DESMOND "CAP" KIDD

Scouts Answer To Delinquency

B.C. Commissioner 'Cap' Kidd Here on First Official Visit

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Judges and magistrates agree that the Boy Scout movement is a logical answer to juvenile delinquency.

"Three leading judges told me they had never had a boy scout before them," Dr. Desmond F. ("Cap") Kidd, scout commissioner for British Columbia-Yukon said on the occasion of his first official visit to Victoria today.

A breezy, good-humored man of 52, Dr. Kidd has devoted most of his life to mining and geology. But scouting now is his chief enthusiasm.

He talks lyrically of the growth of the movement, pointing out that the number of scouts in B.C. and the Yukon has increased from 28,000 to 30,000 in the past six months.

"The movement in B.C. is growing as fast as the population, and it is significant that some of our most capable businessmen are willing to take key positions in scouting."

"During my 12 months as commissioner I have learned that you need never be afraid to ask anyone to do anything for scouting. Every parent knows what it can do for his boys."

WORLD TOUR

Dr. Kidd accepted the unpaid office of provincial commissioner last year after he was committed to a six-months world tour, which took him to the Olympic Games in Australia.

On his way back to Vancouver, he stopped off in England long enough to attend a scout training course at Gilwell Park and qualified for his wood badge—an unusual achievement for a man in the fifties.

"Of course, I have an advantage," smiled Dr. Kidd. "I have been working in the bush all my life and a man cannot do that without learning something about outdoor life."

CAMPS OUT

Tonight the provincial commissioner will be under canvas at Camp Barnard, Sooke, where he is attending a cub leader's course.

"We have no shortage of leaders at the present time," he continued. "There is never any difficulty finding leaders providing you adopt the right approach to the problem."

Dr. Kidd says the increase in scouting in B.C. is due to the general growth in population plus a growing recognition of scout training as an answer to youth problems.

Wherever there is the slightest demand for a new scout troop anywhere in the province, a professional scout is dispatched.

'MOUNTIE RED' CONSIDERED FOR CENTENNIAL YEAR FETE

Assistant-Commissioner C. W. Harvison, head of the RCMP in B.C., said today consideration will be given to a suggestion that at least one Mountie in every detachment wear the red-coated dress uniform during centennial year.

Request was made by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island meeting at Sooke Wednesday, who said Canada should try to conform to its tourist advertisements in the U.S.

"We want to be of any assistance," Commissioner Harvison said, "but it must be remembered that our primary job is the protection of the public."

Bank President Sees Restricted Markets for Canadian Product

As long as marketing policies of Canada and other countries remain unchanged "it is difficult to foresee any great expansion in the markets for Canadian wheat other than such as might occur through widespread crop failures elsewhere," Canadian Bank of Commerce president N. J. McKinnon, Toronto, said here today.

Court Action Might Raise Parking Fines

A young Victoria lawyer's attempt to have the city Streets, Traffic and Regulation By-Law, 1951, declared ultra vires in respect to a parking charge today for judgment next Thursday in city police court.

Effect of a judgment in favor of Mary Elizabeth Botterell, 533 Transit, would mean future charges would be laid under the new Motor Vehicle Act, which provides for a minimum penalty of $10.

Penalty under the Victoria by-law is $1.

The defendant, represented by Robert Hutchison, argues the parking prohibition in the by-law is rendered ultra vires of a section of the Motor Vehicle Act.

Mr. Hutchison said the statute covers parking on all streets in B.C. and he submitted it provides a complete code of standards for traffic regulation.

"The province, in passing this act, clearly shows it is occupying the field... and therefore it excludes concurrent legislation," which municipalities may pass.

The city has only power to enact additional, not similar legislation, he said.

City prosecutor Alan Bigelow submitted the law, if consistent (and he maintained the by-law is consistent) is valid until it is annulled or replaced.

The defendant is charged with parking over two hours in a designated zone.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: Kenneth G. Stewart, 1571 Hampshire, $25 for driving without a licence.

Paul Alexander Beck, 1217 St. Patrick, $15 for crossing a double solid centre line.

Maurice Kozak, 832 North Park, $35 for speeding over 30.

Hydro Commission Chief Sees U.S. Competition

Decision on the first stage of development of southern B.C. hydro-electric resources must be made "very soon," the top official of the B.C. Power Commission said here today.

H. L. Briggs, general manager of the government-owned commission, told a Rotary Club luncheon that studies of power sources now under consideration show B.C. will be at a competitive disadvantage with the Northwestern U.S.

The only large source of hydro power in this area which has any hope of developing and transmitting power at any cost approaching that of the Bonneville Power Administration price is the Fraser River, Mr. Briggs said.

However, the Fraser is ruled out by the federal government because dams would ruin the valuable salmon run, he said.

"As long as this stand is maintained, it eliminates from consideration for the time being, what is distinctly the lower cost power source of south and central British Columbia."

Other power sources under consideration are the Homathko-Chilko River system and Clearwater River, both capable of developing 1,000,000 horsepower, and the Columbia River, including Mica Creek, which has an estimated potential of 3,300,000 horsepower.

All these sites have the disadvantage of being a long way from the markets, however, requiring transmission lines which add to the overall cost of the power.

How can this comparative cost disadvantage with the U.S. be alleviated? Mr. Briggs gave as one of the ways:

ASSISTANCE

"By governmental assistance on the more costly major hydro projects, such as capital contributions, long term low interest loans, or other financial plans with similar effect."

Power returned by the U.S. in exchange for downstream benefits would also help reduce our costs, Mr. Briggs said.

"The first selection of a major development in the whole development sequence must be made very soon," he said, "furthermore the proper sequence may be vitally affected by knowledge of or lack of knowledge of the availability of capital assistance and downstream benefits."

OTHER SOURCES

Motorists, especially tourists, were warned by chief constable John Blackstock today to remove valuables from cars parked overnight on streets and parking lots.

Locking doors and rolling up windows will not stop looters, he said.

In the past two nights cars of two American tourists have been ransacked and contents stolen.

One complainant, a doctor staying at a downtown hotel, lost his medical kit and considerable other property belonging to himself and family.

Lilla May Robinson and Ruby H. McCombs, both of San Carlos, Calif., left their car in a lot at the rear of a downtown motor court Wednesday night.

They lost clothing valued in excess of $220 when the thief used a glass cutter to make a hole in a car window.

He added that he thought income derived from a surcharge on out-of-town cars should be used for provision of off-street parking.

The city is at present applying to the B.C. government for the right to require that any car driven regularly on Victoria streets be safety tested.

Three aldermen will visit Vancouver this month to inspect the service in operation there.

In Vancouver all cars must be examined twice a year.

CHARGE MADE

The city charges for the service and rules from the streets any car which cannot pass tests of brakes, lights and steering. Police check to see that cars from Burnaby, North and West Vancouver which come into the city are also inspected.

City engineer J. C. Garnett has recommended to Victoria council erection of a $100,000 testing station which would be able to test 30,000 vehicles annually. At a charge of $1 per examination and 25 cents for a recheck, he said the unit would pay for itself and show a slight profit.

Ald. Ramsay's proposal would mean an additional charge would be levied on cars from Saanich, Oak Bay, View Royal, Esquimalt, Sidney and other local areas.

SAANICH READIES PLAYGROUNDS FOR SUMMER

Operational plans for all Saanich playgrounds were completed Tuesday at a meeting of the Saanich Recreation Council.

Supervisors have been engaged for all parks, with the season running from July 8 to August 16. Swimming classes will be held every Thursday at the Crystal Gardens.

Also on the agenda for the youngsters are safety visits from both the police and fire departments.

Maintenance of the playgrounds has been taken over by Saanich Council.

PENMANSHIP AS PENITENTIARY PASTIME?

Writing Expert Would Aid Syme

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

A Victoria handwriting expert is anxious to help Thomas Sidney Syme, a convicted murderer, to occupy his mind while he is serving a life sentence in the B.C. penitentiary.

Henry W. Hamlett, 1145 View Street, telephoned me after reading of the sentence and said:

"I believe Mr. Syme would derive great benefit for himself and his fellow prisoners by studying the science of what we call graphoanalysis."

"I would like to give him some books on the subject."

Syme was sentenced to be hanged June 25 for the murder of his friend, Paul Richard Pöwling, after finding his wife, Raymona, in his arms in a private room at Duncan early New Year's Day.

The death penalty was commuted to life imprisonment after The Times conducted an editorial campaign against the execution of Syme and addressed an appeal to the federal cabinet in Ottawa.

Mr. Syme was obviously in a highly emotional state when he shot his friend," Mr. Hamlett, the handwriting expert, said.

"If I saw his handwriting I would know the extent to which he is governed by his emotions. Through a study of my own writing I found I was too emotional and too

... to understand others prejudiced — not objective enough.

"Emotionalism, you know, is the key to so many things. Most strikes are caused by emotionalism, not by logical thinking."

Mr. Hamlett said he took up the study of graphoanalysis 20 years ago when he was struggling against a crippling disease (and he is still partially crippled).

"It kept my mind occupied and brought me into contact with others when the easiest thing for me to do would have been to feel sorry for myself.

"This science has helped me to understand myself better and to understand others. I only wish the educational authorities would recognize the value of handwriting analysis in determining children's abilities and the kind of studies they should follow."

Mr. Hamlett says criminal investigators have consulted him in cases of suspected forgery and in every case his experience of graphoanalysis has enabled him to detect crime.

"Forgers always give themselves away," he declares. "They make what seems a perfect copy but their unconscious mind leads them astray. There is always some little tell-tale quirk in the forgery that the experienced graphoanalyst can detect."

"Handwriting is the only certain record of personality. It is much more revealing than the human voice because the subject is unconscious of the traits his writing reveals."

Mr. Hamlett believes he can tell from two samples of handwriting whether or not a man and woman would be compatible in marriage. He claims that even a child's scribble reveals his personality trends.

We chatted over coffee in a downtown hotel cafe, and as Mr. Hamlett glanced at the check, he whispered to me:

"You see this girl's scrawl. She will never stay in a job long unless she has to. She loves change and excitement. She would not be happy as a housewife unless her husband could afford to take her out every other night."

Mr. Hamlett is a man with a mission. He makes no money by graphoanalysis but feels it his duty to tell all he knows about it.

For a living he is despatcher for a well-known Victoria firm—and always at night.

"I like to study in the daytime," he says.

Make Yourself New Nail With Plastic Solution

By PENNY SAVER

It's one of the minor tragedies of life—sure as you cherish your fingernails for weeks and get them all nice and long and glamorous-looking for a special party, comes the big day and you break one while you're typing or washing dishes.

But it can be easily remedied. You just make yourself a new nail with the aid of a repair kit I've found.

The kit contains a plastic solution and nail shapes made of metallic foil. You slip the foil under the broken nail tip, cover your own nail and the foil with several coats of plastic, let it dry thoroughly, and then remove the foil.

There you are with a new fingernail—it can be filed to match your others! Go ahead and polish them all, and no one will know the difference.

The plastic can also be used to cover rough nails and to strengthen them as they grow out. It's a good discouragement for nail-biters, too.

To remove, you just soak the nails in polish remover. Price of the kit is $1.25.

ENGLISH SWEETS

People coming home from a trip to England usually bring back tins of English candy—seems too bad to fill up luggage with them when you can buy exactly the same brands right here in Victoria.

I found tins of a well-known English brand at 55c each and had a hard time choosing among treacle brittle, butterscotch and barley sugar.

The same store also has rock candy, the sticks that are sold at every English seaside town. This is from Blackpool and is 14c a stick.

I was also intrigued by little crates of candy "oranges" at 25c. And I found the most delicious bags of chocolate, made in Switzerland of coffee-flavored chocolate filled with coffee-flavored cream. A big bar is 48c.

If you'd like to know where I shopped, just ring me at 2-3131.

Came Rebekah Lodge, No. 45, garden party, Saturday afternoon at home of Mrs. P. W. Smoother, 946 Runnymede Place. Stalls of home cooking, garden, novelties and tea and coffee. Afternoon tea served. In event of unfavorable weather the party will be held in Odd Fellows' Hall, Douglas Street.

Morning Party Realizes $125

Proceeds of $125 were realized at a coffee and sherry party held by Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) Saturday at the home of Mrs. H. B. Weydert, 2371 Lansdowne Road.

Guests were welcomed by Mrs. McFarlane, president, and Mrs. Weydert, Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Mrs. J. S. Adam, Mrs. Jack Fawcett and Mrs. George Peakes poured coffee. Conserver was Mrs. Leslie Macdonell, and Mrs. J. Murray was in charge of the floral arrangements.

Others assisting were Mrs. L. Beddington and Mrs. L. W. Smith, Mrs. J. S. Grimmond, Mrs. H. R. White, Mrs. K. Chalmers, Miss H. Murray, servants; and Mrs. E. Warburton, coffee.

Do Long Gloves Stay on or Come Off?

I have had some long kid gloves tinted a lovely shade of pink to match an evening gown. I am wearing to a wedding. Must I remove them when I go through the receiving line? I would prefer not to, as they lend the finishing touch to my costume.

Louise Davis Answers: Removing gloves or leaving them on is optional. Since you are to complete an evening assemble, leave them on if you prefer, at least part of the time. If a little later you would like to take them off, you can, especially if you would be more comfortable or if you find that you will have to handle canapes or other food. But if you remove them, do it all the way, rather than tuck the fingers inside at the wrists. The bulge isn't attractive.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

You Can Cure Small Health Defects by Daily Exercise

In looking through my files I found some letters from women who had been in my figure molding classes. These mentioned, with amazement, some of the by-products of daily exercise.

Most of the women had joined the classes in order to improve their figure and were surprised by other things which happened to them. One of my pupils wrote, "I am most pleased with my new figure and I am amazed at my improved health."

"Actually I have fairly good health but had a lot of small defects which kept me from feeling really well. For instance, I have corrected constipation which I had had for years. I have lost an ache in my left shoulder. I had a mild touch of arthritis. My joints no longer pop when I move. I have lost a feeling of stiffness in my neck. I have lost the chronic state of fatigue I lived in. I felt exhausted most of the time. Now I do my housework with the greatest of ease."

"Of course, on the cosmetic side I have lost my double chin and inches from top to toe."

I have seen these miracles happen so often that I believe in exercise enthusiastically. Those who are new to exercise are always pleasantly surprised when small disabilities disappear.

Improved body tone and posture and speed up circulation will go a long way toward giving you a sense of well being and easing up the physical machinery. More and more emphasis is being placed on the value of exercise. Older people especially need it because their circulation slows with the years. Naturally it must be exercise which fits your capabilities, and is taken with your doctor's consent.

If you would like to have my beginning exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 25. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

CLUB WOMEN'S NEWS

New Member—Mrs. Florence Leonard was initiated as a new member at meeting of Canadian Daughters' League, Assembly No. 5. A letter of thanks was read from the Salvation Army for a donation to the Red Shield campaign. Members were reminded of the "I Am a Canadian Day" program to be held in front of the Parliament Buildings on June 30 at 3 p.m.

Smorgasbord—Plans were completed at meeting of Robert Burns McKicking Chapter, IOOE, for the annual smorgasbord to be held at the Thorpe Place home of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Fowler this Saturday evening. Mrs. Fowler presided at the meeting, held in the home of Mrs. A. Flinton and a committee for the September fashion show was named as Mrs. Herbert Barnes, Mrs. S. Heald, Mrs. Flinton, Mrs. Fowler and Mrs. J. T. A. Fox. It was decided to present two bursaries of $100 in 1957; Mrs. Daryl Elford and Mrs. W. Bromley volunteered to score at table bowling matches at Victoria headquarters of Canadian National Institute for the Blind. The chapter's honorary vice-regent, Mrs. J. L. Gates, reported on the recent national convention.

Coffee Party—A coffee party honoring new members, Mrs. D. L. Macdonell, Mrs. H. H. Youson and Mrs. R. T. Wallace, followed a meeting of the executive board of the Women's Canadian Club. Plans were completed for a fashion show and tea, Sept. 9 and 10, in the Douglas Room, Hudson's Bay Co. and tickets are now available from board members. Clothes for the more mature figure will be featured, modeled by Canadian Club members. Proceeds will go to the club bursary.

Auxiliary Tea—A sum of $165 was realized at the Blossom Tea given by the Children's Ward Auxiliary of Royal Jubilee Hospital. A silver bowl of yellow roses flanked by golden candles centred the head tea table where Mrs. Percy Scudrah, Miss Verna Beek, Mrs. R. T. Wallace and Mrs. Lyle Wicks presided. Miss Irene Bannerman, vice-president, welcomed guests. The floral decorations were the handwork of Mrs. G. Rusk and Miss Lucie Woodrow. Mrs. J. W. Turner convoked the grocery Smethurst. Misses Marjory and Evelyn Tait were in charge of the home-cooking table. Servers were Misses Alma Hill, Cecile Couves, Marjorie Siddall, Emily Warburton, Emma Barrowclough, Joyce Denby, Mrs. V. Edward, and six nurses from the ward. A display of equipment purchased for the ward was arranged by Miss Joyce Denby.

Garden Competition—At a recent meeting of Esquimalt Women's Institute, a miniature garden competition was held. The first prize being awarded to Mrs. A. Hopwood; second to Mrs. W. Strawson and third to Mrs. R. McVie. Judges were Mrs. E. Draper and Mrs. A. Hutchinson. Tea was served.

Floods Ravaged China Communists Disclose

TOKYO (AP)—The worst floods in recent history ravaged seven provinces on the China mainland last year, Communist China disclosed for the first time today.

Peiping carried reports of the floods when they occurred last year but maintained they were kept under control. A statement broadcast by radio Peiping admitted today the floods were far more serious than its previous reports indicated.

A home ministry spokesman said the floods were worse than those which devastated widespread areas in 1954 and 1951.

Stricken were Kiangsu, Anhwei, Honan, Hopei, Chekiang, Heilungkiang and Kirin. Sections of two other provinces, Hunan and Kwangsi suffered severe droughts.

The spokesman's statement, broadcast by radio Peiping, said the national government disbursed nearly $190 million to refugees and extended another $160 million in loans to the flooded provinces.

Food and clothing also were distributed, the radio said.

There have been recent reports of serious food shortages. A Peiping broadcast last week said some 15 million persons in eastern Hopei province were faced with starvation.

However, the spokesman said the new wheat crop was now being circulated throughout the country and the danger of starvation this spring had passed.

But he warned new floods are threatening in certain areas and said officials have been placed on the alert.

Discovery Pass Swim Planned By Victoria Girl

CAMPBELL RIVER—Anita Long, 18-year-old Victoria long-distance swimmer, has accepted an invitation of Campbell River Rotary Club to swim across Discovery Passage from April Point, on Quadra Island, to Campbell River.

She will attempt the three-mile swim Dominion Day.

Her manager, Bud Phillips, said she will attempt to swim Juan de Fuca Strait from Race Rocks to Port Angeles about three days after the Campbell River swim.

Her employer, Diggon's Willson Stationery Co., Ltd., will sponsor her swims.

Two Seamen Die In Explosion On Big Carrier

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt limped into port today, victim of its second accident at sea in two months.

On board were two dead and five injured seamen. They were sprayed by steam Wednesday when a pump exploded deep inside the 45,000-ton warship.

Twenty-nine others were stricken with heat prostration or exhaustion, many of them in efforts to rescue trapped comrades.

The explosion blew pieces of the pump through two bulkheads as well as the steam lines.

Capt. T. W. Hopkins said the ship was on a training exercise when the accident occurred.

That was about 50 miles from the spot where the Roosevelt threw a propeller blade on May 15.

All-Star Plans Set

MONTREAL (CP)—The third annual all-star game between teams representing the Big Four and the Western Interprovincial Football Union will be played in Montreal Dec. 7. It was announced here Wednesday.

Officials of the Shriners, sponsors of the game, met Wednesday in Toronto and agreed on the date and place for the game. Proceeds go to charity.

CALYPSO SONGS HERALD START OF SECOND TEST

LONDON (Reuters)—England's Negro community thumped oil drums and strummed guitars in the stately confines of Lord's cricket grounds today at the opening of an England vs. West Indies cricket match.

The game is the second of a five-match test series the visitors are playing here. The first ended in a draw at Edgbaston earlier this month.

West Indies tours here invariably give cricket a flavor unusual to the Englishman's traditional concept of the national sport.

Taylor Improves After Operation

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fred W. (Cyclone) Taylor, of hockey fame, has been discharged from hospital following his second major operation in two months.

The 73-year-old father of John Taylor, Progressive Conservative M.P. for Vancouver-Burrard, is resting at home. His family says he is "feeling great."

U.S.-Russian Meet Dropped By AAU

NEW YORK (AP)—The Amateur Athletic Union has dropped plans for a proposed series of track meets between the United States and Russia.

AAU chief Dan Ferris said the reason the meets would not be held was twofold:

1. The Russians refused to go along with the U.S. proposal that each country defray in full the expenses of the visiting team.

2. The refusal of the Russians to enter the U.S. under immigration laws prevailing at the time of entry.

The first of the home-and-home series was to have taken place in Moscow July 12-14 with the U.S. sending a 70-man team.

Pennant Scramble Lifts Attendance

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Early season attendance at minor league baseball games is ahead of the 1956 figure.

George M. Trautman said today. The president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues said a survey of 26 of the 28 loops under his jurisdiction showed 14 had boosted attendance and 12 had declined for the period through May 31.

Leslie O'Connor, proxy of the Pacific Coast League, said an exciting pennant scramble had resulted in attendance jumping from 508,363 to 568,474.

BOY, SIX, MISSING

HANEY—A search by 75 men and an RCMP tracking dog failed Wednesday night to turn up any clue to the whereabouts of a six-year-old boy who has been missing from his Haney home since Tuesday.

A search by police, Boy Scouts and volunteers was scheduled to resume at dawn.

John Bruneau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Bruneau of Haney was last seen near the Canadian Legion building here Wednesday afternoon, nearly 24 hours after he was missed.

Pads Pick on Leaders To Move to Penthouse

By THE UNITED PRESS

The San Diego Padres today were the newest tenants in the Pacific Coast League penthouse division, but they had to kick the landlord in the teeth to get there.

The Pads ousted Seattle as fourth-place occupant when Bob DiPietro came back home to haunt San Francisco Seals. The Seals had cast DiPietro off earlier in the season—but apparently they didn't cast him far enough.

DiPietro's ninth inning single gave the Padres an 8-7 win over San Francisco that was good enough to cut the Seals' PCL lead to a game and a half after Vancouver dumped Seattle 6-4.

Los Angeles battered Sacramento 10-0 and Portland beat Hollywood 9-5 in other action.

Sharon Moves Into Finals Of Two Events

First finalist in the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club's annual tennis tournament was decided on Wednesday as defending women's singles champion Sharon Whittaker proved too much for Junior Diana Lawrence.

Miss Whittaker will meet the winner of tonight's semifinal between Miss M. Petersen and Miss P. Ferguson.

Miss Whittaker also teamed with Miss T. Elmsley to best the women's doubles combination of Miss Wasson and Miss Gardner to enter the finals in that division.

In men's action, defending champion Ron Mitchell made the semifinals with a win over Keith Taylor.

Tonight's draw follows:

5:30—Men's singles semi-final, T. Elmsley vs. G. Hartley. Flight semi-final, W. Brown-Care vs. J. Wells.

8:00—Men's doubles semi-final, D. Elmsley and F. Boyd vs. R. Mitchell and J. Butt.

8:30—Men's singles semi-final, M. Petersen vs. P. Ferguson.

7:30—Men's doubles, T. Elmsley and T. Elmsley vs. K. Taylor and W. Dunbar.

Butlers Bow At Long Last

Butler Brothers, the terror of the Victoria Minor Lacrosse Association's bantam division, were finally beaten, 12-8, Wednesday after a string of seven wins, but it took an all-star team to do it.

With the star players from every other team in the league ranged against them in a preliminary game at Memorial Arena, Butlers were forced to leave their main scoring chores to Bruce Mitchell. He netted four.

Bill Munro, usual top-scorer for the Saanich club, was held to two goals. Gary Zelkie and John Hanson each sniped one for the losers.

For the all-stars, John Paul fired three and Glen Vickers and Mike Gallant each scored twice. Pat Green, Brian Stavrum, Brian Spaven, Phil Wade and Allistair McNair got one apiece.

Grocers Edge Wests; Move Near Top Berth

MacNutt's won at Victoria West Junior High School.

Bishop Judge broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth inning when he singled in the winning run. Dick Gibson drove in an insurance run in the seventh.

No-Hitter Not Enough

TORONTO (CP)—Norm Shanahan Wednesday night suffered the baseball pitcher's supreme frustration. He tossed a no-hitter and lost.

Pape Midgets beat Shanahan's Moss Park club 1-0 when they took advantage of an infield error to score. Pape's Bob McDonald allowed only two hits.

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football Union today announced the signing of Jim Matheny, six-foot-one, 225-pound centre and linebacker from UCLA. He is Argos' 23rd new import.

Little Change Seen In Hydro Policies

By JOHN E. BIRD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The Progressive Conservatives are not expected to take any different basic position than the Liberals in Canada-United States negotiations on development of water power resources of rivers crossing the international boundary.

However, the government of Prime Minister-Designate John Diefenbaker may attempt to speed negotiations on the thorny problem and may be more outspoken about Canadian rights.

During the last session of Parliament, Howard Green, Conservative power spokesman and a potential cabinet minister in the Diefenbaker government, complained about the length of preliminary negotiations.

Canada and the U.S. announced May 23, 1956, that the two countries planned to discuss the international river problem. However, it was not until March 17, 1957, that the first agenda-setting meeting was held in Ottawa. This was followed by a Washington conference May 20-21.

Mr. Green said that if negotiations proceeded over an unusually long period a Canada-U.S. decision on international rivers might be delayed for months or even years.

Latest reports indicate the complex negotiations could extend over another year. If the reports are correct, the Conservatives may attempt to bring them to an earlier conclusion.

The negotiations aim at agreement between the two countries on the best way to develop the hydro-electric resources of international rivers.

The main problem revolves around what are known as down-stream benefits, gains to a down-stream state from the power potential it derives by water regulation or storage in an upstream state. Flood control on both sides of the border also enters into the complex picture.

Prime Minister St. Laurent's Liberal government took the position that Canada should receive compensation in the form of electric power if Canadian water resources are used for hydro production in the U.S.

This applies particularly to the Columbia, which rises in B.C., crosses the boundary near Trail, B.C., and flows through

SWITCH GOOD FOR CANADA —N.Y. TIMES

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times says the change of government in Canada "is a major event in the current history of the Western Hemisphere."

In an editorial, the paper says the difference between the old and the new regime likely will be the same order of difference as occurred in Britain when she switched from a Socialist to a Tory government in 1951.

"It is doubtless good for Canada, and therefore for all of us," the paper adds, "to have a change of government after 22 years. Meanwhile, we can take comfort in the fact that Canadians have not changed and that the Liberals in opposition can be expected to show as much statesmanship as they did in office."

Allies Move to Meet Threat From Red Build-Up in Korea

WASHINGTON (AP)—South Korean Ambassador You Chan Yang said today he understands the 16 allied powers have agreed on a program for modernizing weapons in South Korea.

Yang said in an interview that the United Nations command is expected to notify the Communists of the Western alliance's intentions at a meeting called in Panmunjom Friday.

"I believe the reason for the meeting is to change the armistice agreement in order to let the United Nations command build up to the strength of Communist forces in North Korea," the ambassador said.

"Certainly that should be done," he added. "We should not repeat the 1950 tragedy which allowed the Communists to build up the nth degree while we were sitting there like clay pigeons."

He said the Communist build-up in North Korea is "not a fantastic dream."

"Under these circumstances I am sure the right decision has been made by the allied powers," Yang added. "I congratulate those people who see danger ahead. If we weaken ourselves we are inviting trouble."

Even as the armistice went into force, barring Allied fighters from the skies north of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea, Allied radar screens picked up scores of Red fighters from Manchuria dropping onto make-shift strips in North Korea.

Korean military leaders argued for months that the Communists were building up for an attack and would strike southward whenever they felt confident of success.

OBsolete UN WEAPONS

Allied leaders say the UN command has observed the ban on new weapons to the letter. As a result, they say, Allied weapons have become obsolete, making it impossible for out-gunned UN and South Korean troops to defend themselves adequately in the event of renewed Communist aggression.

U.S. defence secretary Charles Wilson told reporters in May that the U.S. was considering equipping its divisions in South Korea with weapons that could be equipped with atomic warheads in the event of a new Communist attack. Wilson said he hoped for a "prompt decision."

APPOINTMENT of Carl E. Brannen, 45, of Victoria as executive assistant to a committee on civic efficiency has been announced by the Toronto Board of Control. The committee was recently set up to implement efficiency recommendations made by management consultants J. D. Woods and Gordon. Salary range of the new post is $8,000 to $11,000 annually. Mr. Brannen was assistant city comptroller for Victoria until October, 1955, when he entered the insurance business. During the Second World War he was an RCAF wing commander in pay section.

Up-Island Points Lose Air Service As Traffic Poor

VANCOUVER (CP)—Pacific Western Airlines officials said today they have suspended passenger flights to several up-coast and Vancouver Island centres indefinitely because of lack of traffic.

Cancelled are Wednesday flights between Prince Rupert and Ketchikan, Alaska, daily flights between Vancouver, Gun Lake, Ganges and Port Alberni, and tri-weekly service between Vancouver and Shalalth.

Rain Helps Fight Against N.S. Fire

WINDSOR, N.S. (CP)—Firemen and volunteers held Nova Scotia's biggest forest fire under control today. They were helped by the moisture from Wednesday's half-inch rainfall, the first this month that was more than a shower.

About 10,000 acres of spruce and fir forest have been burned over since the fire started 11 days ago. Six camps and a saw-mill have been destroyed.

52,000 FLEE FLOOD WATERS IN ITALY

ROVIGO, Italy (Reuters)—The rain-swollen River Po burst its dikes today and forced 52,000 inhabitants of two delta islands to flee for their lives.

First it swirled over Ariano Island south of Venice, driving out the island's 32,000 people. Almost the entire island was reported flooded.

As rescue workers struggled to erect a wall to save part of the island from being submerged, the waters turned on Porto Tolle Island and its 20,000 population.

Rescue workers switched to the second island to buttress its river walls with sandbags. As pressure increased on the walls, an emergency order for immediate evacuation of Porto Tolle was issued.

Unionist Clarifies Election Day Charge

(See earlier story on Page 8). Clarification of a charge made before the Victoria Labor Council that a local employer had cut the pay of 70 workers let off early to vote in the federal election was given today by Mr. Parker, business agent of the International Union of Operating Engineers, local 115.

He said the workers were members of three different unions. He declined to name the company. For the past three months the men have been paid for working nine hours a day on a project, he said.

On election day the employer let the workers off early to allow the three hours' voting time stipulated in the Canada Elections Act, but paid them for only eight hours.

This constituted a reduction in pay for the men, which is specifically outlawed by the Elections Act, Mr. Parker claimed.

The union will have its lawyer approach the firm, he said, and the employer had agreed to pay the additional money if it could be proved that he had done wrong.

Unconscious Lad Pulled From Waters of Gorge

Fast action by two teenagers saved a third boy from drowning below Gorge Bridge Wednesday afternoon.

Donald Harvey, 18, 318 Uganda, tumbled from the bank into the swift Gorge waters below the falls. He struck his head and was floating face down into the current.

Kenneth Buxton, 16, 304 Brunswick Place, and Desmond Dalloway, 15, 944 Garthland, dragged him to the bank then called Sanich fire department.

David was released from St. Joseph's Hospital after treatment for abrasions and shock.

David's mother, Mrs. E. Harvey, said her son suffered a skull injury five years ago and on occasion since, has blacked out. She said this may have occurred at the time of the accident.

Victoria Jaycees Convention Bound

The delegation is composed of Victor Fuggle, retiring president of the Victoria Jaycees; Ira Hill, president-elect; V. Smith, and Stickney Harris.

U.S. Eases Rules On Goods to Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States government today eased its restrictions on the shipment of non-strategic goods to Russia and her European satellites. It added some 200 commodities to the list of things that may be exported there without individual licenses.

The bureau of foreign commerce emphasized, however, that the action "in no way reflects a change in the policy of barring strategic goods to the Soviet bloc, nor in any way affects the complete embargo against shipments to Communist China."

The bureau said the number of non-strategic items that may be shipped to the European Soviet bloc now totals about 900. Items added to the list of "peaceful goods" included:

Cattle hides, inedible tallow, tallow, electrical supplies such as flashlights and batteries, farm and home-type freezers, appliance cords, paint, insect traffic signal lights and insect control units; certain canned vegetables, beans and peas, tobacco products and iron and steel builders' hardware.

Animals Around US Woodlice on Land Have Sea Ancestry

By DR. CLIFFORD CARL

The sowbug under the damp board, the pillbug in the flower bed, the slater on the sea beach and the gribble eating the wharf piling all belong to the same group of animals called isopods for want of a better name. All have a flattened body and a number of legs which means "legs all of one kind."

Isopods have an ancient ancestry, though most of them are marine and have, apparently remained unchanged over eons of time, some have cut their ties to the sea to live on land. These are the familiar sowbugs or woodlice of the garden, the flattened grey-colored creatures found in all damp situations near habitation. Their habit of crowding together like little piles is apparently the basis for the name sowbug or hoglouse and the general term "slater" refers to the slate-grey color commonly found in these animals.

A few other marine relatives have taken up the "soft life" by becoming parasitic in a habit, some on barnacles and some on crabs and shrimps.

Apart from the destructive gribble the isopods as a group are of no consequence to man. The marine and fresh-water species are food items for fishes and the terrestrial forms suggest one route by which arthropods left the sea, but these particular members have apparently reached a dead-end and can go no farther.

U.K. Scientists Seek to Develop 3 in 1 Vaccine

LONDON (Reuters) — The ministry of health said today a three-in-one vaccine to immunize against diphtheria, whooping cough and polio is being sought in British laboratories.

In charge of research work is polio vaccine expert Dr. William Wood. Commenting on a newspaper report that the vaccine also would immunize against lock jaw, the ministry said that as yet no such vaccine has been developed.

There now is a three-in-one vaccine, but it is for diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

U.S. Appeals Rule Taking GI From Japs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Justice department today appealed to the Supreme Court from a decision barring the government from surrendering soldier William S. Girard to the Japanese for trial.

A petition said the decision by U.S. District Judge Joseph McGarray was "clearly wrong." It said the "public interest in an early disposition of the case" is so great that the court should act at the earliest convenient date.

Unionist Clarifies Election Day Charge

(See earlier story on Page 8). Clarification of a charge made before the Victoria Labor Council that a local employer had cut the pay of 70 workers let off early to vote in the federal election was given today by Mr. Parker, business agent of the International Union of Operating Engineers, local 115.

He said the workers were members of three different unions. He declined to name the company. For the past three months the men have been paid for working nine hours a day on a project, he said.

On election day the employer let the workers off early to allow the three hours' voting time stipulated in the Canada Elections Act, but paid them for only eight hours.

This constituted a reduction in pay for the men, which is specifically outlawed by the Elections Act, Mr. Parker claimed.

Red Warships On Exercise In Bosphorus

ISTANBUL (Reuters) — A Russian cruiser and two escort ships passed through the Bosphorus bound for the Mediterranean early today.

The Russians, had informed Turkey about the ships, saying they were on a naval exercise.

Diplomatic sources describe the move as a show of power to return to a British fleet's visit to Turkish Black Sea ports recently.

According to the 1936 Montreux Treaty, Black Sea countries have the right to pass through the straits on informing Turkey.

... ARMS CUT

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said agreement on force levels is a necessary part of any first-stage disarmament agreement. Stassen did not mention any force ceilings for other big powers such as Britain or France or Communist China.

In previous exchanges, the British and French forces were given a suggested limitation of 750,000 men each.

The disarmament group, which has until Aug. 1 to report to the UN disarmament commission in New York, adjourned until Tuesday.

Delegates at the talks said privately that prospects for some arms limitation agreement seem more favorable now than at any time since the Second World War.

Britain enters this critical phase of the negotiations with her bargaining power increased by the successful completion of a series of three hydrogen bomb tests in the Pacific.

She is reported in a position to begin full-scale production of nuclear weapons like the U.S. and Russia.

ONE MAJOR ISSUE

For several weeks the Western powers and Russia have appeared to be approaching an agreement to end nuclear tests. One major issue still divides them. In the Western view ending such tests should be linked with an agreement to stop the production of nuclear weapons.

Thus far Russia has resisted such a proposal. Moscow has proposed a two to three-year end to the tests, and for the first time has agreed to allow international observers to be stationed on Soviet soil to see that there is no cheating on such a test ban.

Western delegations regarded that as a major concession. But they feel any ending of the tests which still allowed continued mass production of nuclear weapons would not bring any lasting improvement.

fore gaining the Conservative leadership last December.

PROCESSION CONTINUES

Meanwhile, the procession of cabinet candidates who visited his office Wednesday continued today.

Mr. Diefenbaker, 61-year-old Saskatchewan lawyer, met a succession of top-ranking Conservatives Wednesday in an effort to prepare his cabinet which is due to take office Friday, thus ending 22 years of Liberal rule.

Mr. Diefenbaker is due to be sworn in at about 11:30 a.m. EDT, 8:30 PDT, Friday, at Government House in the presence of Governor-General Massey. Then his cabinet will be summoned and sworn in.

INCOMPLETE SLATE

He has indicated the cabinet slate may not be a complete one; some posts may not be finally filled until his return from the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference. The new prime minister is scheduled to leave by air for London Sunday afternoon, to be away for two weeks.

Shortly before the new government takes office, resigning Prime Minister St. Laurent and the members of the Liberal cabinet will visit the governor-general to take their leave. Later in the day the elected Liberal members, 105 strong, will meet in caucus to discuss the party's future and its future.

FLEMING FOR FINANCE

At the party leader's office, the procession of visitors gave some clue to the makeup of the cabinet.

Mr. Diefenbaker kept his own counsel, but a high party informant said the key post of finance minister had been practically settled for Donald Fleming, 52, MP for Toronto-Eglinton since 1945 and runner-up for the Conservative leadership at the party convention last December.

Earlier speculation was that J. M. Macdonnell, party financial critic in the Commons since 1945, might get the finance portfolio.

But his age—72 apparently has ruled that out. The revenue portfolio is a possibility for him.

matter for the new government to decide. However, he added: "In big questions of principle the parties have been pretty close together."

Mr. Pearson was interviewed as he emerged from an hour-long talk with prime minister-designate John Diefenbaker. He was asked whether he might be leaving Parliament for a new job, possibly with the United Nations.

MEETS OPPONENT

"No. I have just been elected to parliament and it would be a little surprising if I were to leave."

He noted that he had just been shaking hands with his Conservative election opponent in Algoma East constituency, Merton Mulligan. Mr.

AUSSIES HOLD CANADIAN IN GOLD BRICK THEFT

OTTAWA (CP)—The RCMP said today a 30-year-old miner-pro prospector accused of stealing two gold bricks worth $50,000 by substituting lead for them aboard a plane in Canada has been arrested in Australia.

Anthony Hart (Tony) Gregson, placed on the RCMP's list of most-wanted men more than a year ago, has been located in prison at Sydney, Australia. He is serving a 14-day sentence for stowing away aboard the Ss Cornwall.

The RCMP said Gregson was arrested June 14 and gave his name as Colin Dempsey. He will be deported to Canada. When Gregson's name was added to their list of most-wanted men, the RCMP said the two gold bricks stolen from a plane bound for Yellowknife, N.W.T., in July, 1954, probably were disposed of in the United States.

Mulligan was in an anteroom beside Mr. Diefenbaker's office.

Mr. Pearson's smiling comment as he emerged: "There is no truth in the rumor I am on the cabinet list."

Mr. Diefenbaker, standing beside, laughed.

Sharon Moves Into Finals Of Two Events

First finalist in the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club's annual tennis tournament was decided on Wednesday as defending women's singles champion Sharon Whittaker proved too much for junior Diana Lawrence. Miss Whittaker will meet the winner of tonight's semifinal between Miss M. Petersen and Miss P. Ferguson.

Miss Whittaker also teamed with Miss T. Elmsley to best the women's doubles combination of Miss Wasson and Miss Gardner to enter the finals in that division.

In men's action, defending champion Ron Mitchell made the semifinals with a win over Keith Taylor.

Tonight's draw follows:

8:30—Men's singles semi-final: T. Elmsley vs. G. Hartley. Flight semi-final: Brown-Cave vs. J. Wells.

4:00—Men's doubles semi-final: D. McCormick and J. Coar vs. R. Mitchell and J. Burr.

8:30—Ladies' singles semi-final: M. Petersen vs. P. Ferguson.

7:30—Men's doubles: T. Elmsley and C. Brand vs. K. Taylor and W. Dunbar.

Butlers Bow At Long Last

Butler Brothers, the terrors of the Victoria Minor Lacrosse Association's hantam division, were finally beaten, 12-8, Wednesday after a string of seven wins, but it took an all-star team to do it.

With 10 star players from every other team in the league ranged against them in a preliminary game at Memorial Arena, Butlers were forced to leave their main scoring chores to Bruce Mitchell. He netted four.

Bill Munro, usual top-scorer for the Saanich club, was held to two goals. Gary Zekie and John Hanson each sniped one for the losers.

Grocers Edge Wests; Move Near Top Berth

George Rowbottom pitched MacNutt's Grocery to within a single game of the Juvenile Boys' Softball League lead Tuesday night, spinning a 4-2 win over Victoria West at Victoria West Junior High School.

Bishop Judge broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth inning when he singled in the winning run. Dick Gibson drove in an insurance run in the seventh.

No-Hitter Not Enough

TORONTO (CP)—Norm Shananan Wednesday night suffered the baseball pitcher's supreme frustration. He tossed a no-hitter and lost.

Pape Midgets beat Shananan's Moss Park Club 10 when they took advantage of an infield error to score. Pape's Bob McDonald allowed only two hits.

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football Union today announced the signing of Jim Matheny, six-foot-one, 225-pound centre and linebacker from UCLA. He is Argos' 23rd new import.

Pads Pick on Leaders To Move to Penthouse

By THE UNITED PRESS

The San Diego Padres today were the newest tenants in the Pacific Coast League penthouse division, but they had to kick the landlord in the teeth to get there.

The Pads ousted Seattle as fourth-place occupant when Bob DiPietro came back home to haunt San Francisco Seals. The Seals had cast DiPietro off early in the season—but apparently they didn't cast him far enough.

DiPietro's ninth inning single gave the Padres an 8-7 win over San Francisco that was good enough to cut the Seals' PCL lead to a game and a half after Vancouver dumped Seattle 6-4. Los Angeles battered Sacramento 10-0 and Portland beat Hollywood 9-5 in other action.

Canadians On European Cricket Tour

OTTAWA (CP)—A Canadian junior cricket team leaves in a week for Europe to play a series of exhibition matches in England, Scotland and Wales.

The players come from as far west as Edmonton and as far east as Montreal, and include one from Jamaica and another from Paris, who are students in this country.

Picked by the Canadian Cricket Association, the team is coached by Rod Harrison, a cricket master at Upper Canada College.

During their six-week tour the team will play test matches against teams from several countries.

The team will be the guests of the famous Marylebone Cricket Club in England.

Davies Reaches Ladies' Net Final

First finalist of the annual B.C. Electric tennis club's annual tournament was decided on Wednesday as N. Davies defeated Ivy Hill in the ladies' singles final.

Tonight's draw follows:

8:15—J. Peetz and B. Hallock vs. I. Hill and A. W. Reid.

8:30—P. Batten vs. J. Scott.

7:30—N. Wallace and M. Bardon vs. H. Ott and P. Boyd.

11:30—B. Hawthorn and L. Temple vs. E. Wilson and S. Davies.

Style Portrayal Judged Betrayal

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Golfers Ben Hogan as awarded $5,000 damages today against a New York publishing company which portrayed his technique in a book, Golf With the Masters, brought out two years ago.

Judge Peter F. Hagan ruled that A. S. Barnes and Company had "misappropriated" Hogan's property rights "in the commercial value of his name and photograph."

The judge decided the book created "unfair competition" for Hogan's own book Power Golf.

St. Andrew's Surprises As Second Half Starts

VANCOUVER (CP)—St. Andrew's, which wound up last in the first half of the Coast Soccer League schedule, opened the second half Wednesday night by defeating North Shore 2-1 at Calister Park.

Reg Chapman scored St. Andrew's first goal and Dave Guthrie made it 2-0 at 13 minutes of the second half.

Bruce Ashdown scored North Shore's only goal.
